Unconditional Order Will Affect 350 Technicians

TEHRAN (Reuters)—The Iranian government today announced that all the remaining 350 British oil technicians in southern Iran will be expelled from the country.

The expulsion order is not conditional on reopening the oil talks since Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh now considers the talks have completely broken down.

U.N. OFFERS TO RESUME LIAISON TALKS

Ready To Negotiate In Spite of Walkout

TOKYO (AP)—The United Nations command tonight offered to resume liaison talks with Communists at Kaesong tomorrow despite the Communist walkout from a session today.

The offer of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, was contained in a message delivered to Col. Chang Chun-Shan, chief Red liaison officer, at Panmunjom, Korea.

Ridgway's Tokyo headquarters said the Allied commander had instructed Col. Andrew J. Kinney, senior Allied liaison officer, to "desire you deliver this date to Communist liaison officer at Panmunjom the following message signed by you, addressed to Colonel Chang, Communist liaison officer."

"Despite your unilateral action in recessing the meeting today and your abrupt departure therefrom, I am prepared to meet with you tomorrow, Sept. 26, 1951, at 1000 (10 a.m.) to discuss conditions mutually satisfactory for resumption of the armistice talks."

The Reds walked out when Allied liaison officers insisted on discussing conditions under which the truce talks could be resumed. The Allies earlier told the Reds that Kaesong was not a satisfactory site.

The Communists wanted to get the truce talks going right away. But they demanded that the first session be given over to plans for processing a string of charges that the Allies had violated the neutrality of Kaesong.

Eight and one-half hours after the Reds stalked out of the Tuesday morning meeting, an Allied officer left the advance camp at Munsan with the message for the Reds.

He made the extraordinary night flight to Panmunjom, near Kaesong, by helicopter.

Try Putting 3 Quarts In 1 Quart Bottle

OTTAWA (CP)—The National Research Council is working on a way to put three quarts of milk in a one-quart bottle.

It isn't done with mirrors. Scientists of the council's division of applied biology hope to do it by evaporating milk at low temperatures—about 60 degrees.

"Concentration of liquid foods by low temperature evaporation is a relatively new approach to our food preservation and handling problems," the Research Council reported today in a statement on its dairy studies.

"The older technique of high-temperature drying often produces slightly-cooked or scalded flavors. The new technique minimizes these changes in flavor and will therefore find increasingly wide application."

Another goal of the scientists is to preserve frozen concentrated milks for long periods, if possible the nine to 10 months between "flush" and "short" production.

At present whole milk can be frozen and stored at 10 degrees below zero for four months. Concentrated milk, however, although it can be frozen more economically, keeps for only about two months at 10 below. Even after a few weeks it tends to be chalky or even curdled.

Cougars Not Notified Of Any Delay; May Make Temporary Repairs To Leaky Pipes

There were indications today the professional hockey season may open at Memorial Arena Oct. 8 as scheduled.

Arena manager Joe Dukowski was not optimistic that patching of ice-making machinery could be carried out in time, but at the same time he admitted hockey officials had not been notified the planned opening must be delayed.

Dukowski said recommendation was being made to the arena commission at a meeting late this afternoon that leaky pipes in the brine tank of the ice-making plant be repaired temporarily.

The whole system would be redesigned next summer.

The arena manager was cautious in his comments regarding plans. He said if patching is approved he hoped the machinery might be ready for the second game of the hockey season, October 12.

Seven trials are scheduled to be heard to date. Heading the list is the case of Jean Pearson, Victoria, charged with infanticide. She is accused of causing the death of her child.

Peter Thompson will stand trial on a charge of manslaughter arising out of an April 15 traffic accident in Saanich in which Pte. Leon Bruno Aubrey, of Gordon Head, was killed.

Others include William E. Russell, Saanich carpenter, facing nine charges of retaining stolen goods; Frank Charles Nicholls, illicit connection; Charles Herbert Lumley, Ganges, retaining possession of stolen goods; Clifford W. Knibbs, false pretense; J. Victor Lumley, attempted rape.

Other cases may be committed for trial between today and the opening of the court.

Inquest Delayed

CAMPBELL RIVER—Inquest into the death of two highway accident victims was adjourned here today until the only surviving witness, now in hospital, is able to testify.

She is Mrs. Ruth Wartnow, of Campbell River, in Lourdes Hospital with serious injuries suffered Saturday night at Oyster Bay when the small car, in which she was riding crashed, killing two men.

Victims were Frank Ernest Matthews, 27, whose parents live at 3020 Fraser Street, Vancouver, and Harvey Swartz, 30 of 334 Thurlow Street, Vancouver. Both men were employed by Elk Falls Co., Duncan Bay.

Winnipeg Reports Record Fall Low

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg's temperature dropped to 20.4 above overnight, a new low for any Sept. 25. The previous low was 24 above, Sept. 25, 1907.

Last year at this date, the high for the day was 88.4 above. Weather officials are expecting a drop of at least 40 degrees in today's high.

With many temperatures below the 20-above mark, Manitoba was the coldest province overnight. Carman and Neepawa registered 16 above, Dauphin 17, Gimli 18, and Rivers 21.

Duke Undergoes X-Ray

While in London seeing his dangerously ill brother, King George, the Duke of Windsor underwent X-ray examinations, it was reported today. The examinations were described as "routine." Here the Duke is shown saying goodbye to the Duchess as he left Paris.

King Takes Food; Review Tour Plan

B.C. People Would Agree With Plans

A campaign aimed at having Princess Elizabeth postpone her trip to Canada until the King's full recovery is assured will receive widest support from a sympathetic public in British Columbia.

A Victoria Times survey today showed that in all but a few instances the people of the province are generally in favor of postponement of the Royal visit as long as the King's condition remains serious.

Prime Minister St. Laurent started the ball rolling yesterday when he informed London that the Royal couple should not feel bound to fulfill their scheduled Canadian tour during the King's illness.

The Canadian people, he said, would understand if it were found necessary to cancel the visit.

Then Windsor Mayor Arthur Reaume sent a cable to London along the same lines and, at the same time, urged other Canadian cities to follow Windsor's example. Only the "voice of the people" would make the Royal couple postpone their visit, he said.

Premier Byron Johnson today, in a statement, said:

"I concur in the message sent by Prime Minister St. Laurent. I feel I express the sentiments of the people of British Columbia when I say that we wish the Royal Highnesses to feel that they are entirely free of any commitments when considering the advisability of remaining close to the King until after his complete recovery."

Acting Mayor Frank Mulliner, Esquimalt, and A. I. Thomas, Saanich, however, felt Canadian officials shouldn't interfere with the tour outside pressure, they contended.

MORE ABOUT ROYAL VISIT

Oak Bay Reeve P. A. Gibbs said he felt sure residents of his municipality would understand if the tour was postponed. He thought there was an obligation on the part of the Princess to remain at home as long as the King is ill.

'ACT AS ANY DAUGHTER' CANADA TELLS ELIZABETH

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government has told Princess Elizabeth to "act as any other devoted daughter would do under the circumstances" in deciding whether to come to Canada or not.

That, it was learned today, was the gist of a government message forwarded to Clarence House, the residence of the princess, to tell the princess she should feel under no obligation to make a tour of Canada while her father is seriously ill.

CANADA PAGE 1 NEWS

No Voting Delay Seen

LONDON (AP)—Rumors that Britain's Oct. 25 national election might be postponed because of the King's serious illness were denied by a Labor government spokesman today.

The rumors began circulating in London when it was learned Prime Minister Attlee had called a meeting of his ministers tonight. The spokesman pointed out that several ministers were out of the country last week when Attlee announced plans for the election, and said "this is the first occasion he has had for discussing the general situation with them."

LONDON (CP)—Reflections of Canadian anxiety over the King's illness shared front page play in British evening newspapers today with progress reports from Buckingham Palace.

All three evening papers—the Evening Standard, the Star and the Evening News—gave prominence to reports that Canadian newspapers were urging the Canadian Government to suggest that the tour might be canceled or postponed to enable Princess Elizabeth to remain with her father during his convalescence.

Editors from the Toronto Telegram and the Toronto Globe and Mail were quoted to that effect in the Evening Standard and Evening News.

V. W. Andrews, one of Britain's leading columnists, said it might be a blessing if the Royal Tour of Canada were called off.

Writing in the Yorkshire Post, Andrews said:

"I hope careful attention is being given to the question whether Canadian tour... should be postponed. Her (Elizabeth's) presence would be such a comfort to her father in his tedious convalescence and to the Queen that it might be a blessing to have the tour called off for the time being."

"The Royal Family's exemplary sense of duty and fear of disappointing Canada must not stand in the way of a sensible arrangement for the King's benefit."

PRAYER FOR KING

LONDON (AP)—The BBC broadcast the first of special prayers for the King after last night's 11 p.m. newscast. Rev. Francis House led the prayer. It was:

"Almighty and immortal God, giver of life and health, we beseech Thee to hear our prayers for Thy servant, George, our King, so that, by Thy blessing upon him and upon those who minister to him, he may be restored to health of body and mind and give thanks to Thee and Thy Holy Church, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen."

NOT EXPECTED TO LIMIT ITALY

PARIS (AP)—Britain, the United States and France will publish a joint declaration tomorrow saying Italy "is no longer subject" to her peace treaty arms limitations.

Russia was the fourth major power involved in imposing the treaty terms on Italy.

Diplomatic informants in Paris said the three western powers would say in the declaration "changing circumstances" since the Italian treaty was written have made it no longer necessary to compel Italy to abide by certain treaty clauses.

These clauses mainly are those that restricted Italy to an army of 250,000, an air force of 350 planes and 25,000 men, and a navy of no more than 132 ships.

Casualty List

OTTAWA (CP)—The army today issued its 53rd casualty list of the Korean war, reporting three men wounded in action.

The list brought to 251 the number of casualties suffered by Canadian troops in Korean action. These include 62 dead, 170 wounded, 18 injured in action, and one missing.

New Medical Bulletin In Hopeful Vein

LONDON (AP)—Buckingham Palace in a medical bulletin tonight said the King "has had a comfortable day and has been able to take some nourishment."

This was the sixth bulletin on the King's condition since he underwent a major lung operation Sunday morning and was the first to mention he has taken nourishment.

It was interpreted to mean he had successfully passed the first shock of the operation.

The text of bulletin No. 6:

"The King has had a comfortable day and has been able to take some nourishment."

It was in the same hopeful vein as the morning announcement which said the King continued to gain strength after a restful night.

TOUR DECISION NEAR

OTTAWA (CP)—Today may tell the tale on whether Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh come to Canada this fall.

Original plans called for them to have sailed today from Liverpool in the Empress of France.

Their passage was cancelled when it was learned that the King required a major lung operation.

Present plans call for them to fly to Canada to fulfill the program that has been arranged for them starting Oct. 2. However, the men who have planned the elaborate coast-to-coast schedule would not be surprised if the Royal tour is postponed.

Many newspapers have published editorials stressing that in view of the King's grave condition Princess Elizabeth should feel under no obligation to fulfill her Canadian tour. Others suggested the tour might be somewhat trimmed.

Prime Minister St. Laurent Monday had a trans-Atlantic telephone conversation with Prime Minister Attlee concerning the King's illness and Mr. St. Laurent later said he would be in touch again today with Mr. Attlee. It is possible a decision on the Royal tour may be arrived at.

Mr. St. Laurent said that the British leader gave a "very encouraging" report on the King's condition.

Mr. St. Laurent previously had cabled London to tell the Princess and her husband to feel under no obligation to come to Canada at this time. He stressed the Canadian people would understand if the visit has to be postponed.

Meanwhile, tour officials are in a state of suspense. The R.C.A.F. has called back its big C-54 transport from a trial run it was making of the route over which it was to have carried the Royal pair.

The plane is in Ottawa ready to take off on short notice to bring them across the Atlantic in time to start the visit on schedule in Quebec City Tuesday morning.

OTTAWA (CP)—Use of the R.C.A.F.'s C-54 plane to fly the Royal couple across the Atlantic was apparently written off today as tour officials reported they are "awaiting word hourly" on whether the visit is on or off.

One official said he was willing to bet 10 to 1 that the tour by Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will be postponed indefinitely and this feeling appeared to have wide currency in official circles.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

TELEVISION TIDBITS

WHILE OUT in the Esquimalt district a few weeks ago I was treated to a brief program of entertainment on my host's new television set. I use the word "entertainment" advisedly, for all that appeared on the screen was something so blurred and hazy as to suggest the scene—whatever it was—had been televised in a sleet storm by someone suffering from myopia.

Having seen television in operation in England, where they have been doing it for years, I realize, of course, that the excellence of production over there is largely due to the concentration of population in a comparatively small area, which permits the projection—or whatever you call it—of events and programs on thousands of screens within a small distance of the actual happening.

PRAIRIE OPTIMIST

CONVERSELY, the great unpopulated spaces out in this country are the biggest handicap to TV development, there being no Canadian television stations yet in operation. As a result, our TV programs have to be brought in from the United States, often from tremendous distances.

In that connection I chuckled at the optimism of a Saskatoon enthusiast whose backyard, so I am told, boasts the only TV antennae in that city. The fact that he is 1,500 miles away from Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., the nearest TV station, doesn't seem to have dampened his ardour one bit.

BIT BLURRED

THAT TV fan ordered his set last fall, and it finally reached him in February after he had promised not to return it if he got no reception. In May he raised his 100-foot antennae, since when he and his fellow-enthusiasts have been experimenting with the set. According to a news item, his 10-inch screen has not produced any actual pictures yet, although the blurs are so close you can almost visualize them!

A philosopher would point out that this proves that we never really appreciate anything unless it is hard to get. If that man had been able to obtain perfect TV pictures immediately he would probably have been bored to tears with his set by this time. As it is, he will go on tinkering and experimenting in pleasurable anticipation, welcoming any crumb of result that may accrue through his protracted effort.

MARRIAGE AND TV

WHILE on the subject of television, I can't refrain from commenting on the rather vulgar exploitation to which this newest medium is being treated by one American system, the CBS. According to an eastern paper its Bride and Groom Show is given twice weekly and is one of the most popular daytime TV shows.

The show consists of a telecast of an actual wedding, held in Columbia's special chapel. The cameras, erected behind the altar, show the bride couple standing before the officiating minister, with the wedding guests in the background. The service is conducted, the wedding-vows said, the rings exchanged and the couple pronounced man and wife—all to the tune of the TV.

THOSE SPONSORS

BUT THE whole ceremony is punctuated by advertising blurbs boosting the products of the three sponsors of the show in question. They include a maker of hand lotion, a manufacturer of deodorants, and a firm turning out paper napkins.

At the close of the ceremony, the newly-weds are presented with gifts from the sponsors, one Kentucky couple being almost overwhelmed with a motor car. TV set, electric clothes drier and a year's supply of the hand lotion. Needless to say, there is a great rush of applicants to be married in the "Bride-and-Groom" program.

QUESTIONABLE TASTE

NOW I am not saying that the particular products of the firms sponsoring that particular show are anything but excellent. But I do question the taste of those who introduced such a theme into TV.

It may be necessary to advise a bride about keeping her hands soft and smooth; it may even be advisable to warn a bridegroom about something even his best man would hesitate to tell him. But when it comes to telling them so while standing at the altar, just for the "edification" of a huge and curious audience—and to augment sales—such commercialization of what should be a serious and sacred rite seems to me debasing and degrading, not only to those who take part in it, but to the many young people who see it on the screen.

British Tories Expected To Win

Hon. Nancy Hodges, Just Returned, Says Consensus Favors Churchill

The consensus of opinion in Britain today is that the Conservative party will win the forthcoming Oct. 25 election, Hon. Nancy Hodges, recently returned from a tour of the U.K., told 100 members of the Laurier Club at a dinner meeting in Monterey Cafe Monday night.

A recent Gallup poll showed 49 per cent in favor of the Tories, 39 per cent for Labor and 10.5 per cent for Liberal, the B.C. house speaker and Times columnist said.

And if the Tories are returned, the majority of voters favor Anthony Eden (49 per cent) over Winston Churchill (34 per cent) as next prime minister, Mrs. Hodges reported.

"A poll of Tories alone showed Churchill with an edge of 50 per cent to 45 per cent over Eden," the speaker added.

"It is rather sad to see the decline in popularity of the great wartime leader. Without detracting in any way from his magnificent wartime job, or his statesmanship, it must be conceded that he is becoming more and more of a showman all the time. Many Conservatives find him increasingly crotchety and hard to live with."

"In the House, he's prodding all the time. And he gets under their skin."

Mr. Attlee, the speaker reported, had proved something of a phrase-maker himself by referring to Mr. Churchill's "dreary drip of denigration."

DESCRIBED PERSONALITIES

Madame Speaker took her audience on a verbal tour of House of Commons personalities, as she observed them on and off parade. Some thumb-nail vignettes:

Sir Hartley Shawcross—"A fine, clear-cut mind... courteous, cultured, the possessor of a dazzling smile."

Anthony Eden—"A diplomat of the old school."

Aneurin Bevan—"A magnetic personality, capable of inspiring intense hatred and bitterness."

Jennie Lee—"A most amazingly clever woman. She and her husband (Bevan) are really power politicians."

Sir Waldren Smithers—"Calls himself 'the last Conservative.' An 18th century squire—one of the house characters. He is reputed to have asked 15,000 questions in 26 years and at £2,000 a question it's an expensive business."

Mrs. Hodges said that there was "no harder worked, nor more sincere body in the world" than the British House of Commons. "Once they sat in session for 32 consecutive hours. Some even wore carpet slippers to get a little relief. During this time, 24 divisions (calls for a vote) were decided. You can't blame people for getting nervous or raggy under conditions like that."

The speaker was thanked by Hugh Stephen. Dr. J. M. Ewing presided over the gathering. Head table guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Muirhead, the Hon. Harry B. Bowman and Mrs. Bowman, ex-premier John Hart, Harry P. Hodges, Mrs. J. M. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Keate, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kirkpatrick, and Mrs. Hugh R. Stephen.

Drydock Chinook As Slack Season Allows Lay-Off

The Mv. Chinook, having completed an extremely busy summer transporting vacationists between Victoria, Port Angeles and Seattle, will enter drydock next week for her annual overhaul.

The overhaul, to take two days, will be done in Seattle. During that time, Black Ball Ferry Service will provide service between here and the American ports by placing Ss. Malahat in service.

The Chinook will enter drydock Monday and will be out of service until Wednesday night. The Chinook's regular 11.30 a.m. sailing from here to Port Angeles will be advanced to 9 a.m. Monday. The regular 4 p.m. trip from here to Port Townsend and Seattle will be canceled.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, the Malahat will provide regular service. Unlike the Chinook, the Malahat has no sleeping accommodation.

STILL SKYLARKING AROUND

U.S. Scientist Renewing Island Bird Friendships

By HUMPHRY DAVY

A famous U.S. scientist has been "skylarking" around Victoria.

Charles A. (Bert) Harwell, California naturalist, hasn't been kicking up his heels. He's been searching for Victoria's famous larks imported from England years ago.

Mr. Harwell came here to show his movie "Canada East" at the S. J. Willis School Monday night. The meeting was sponsored by the Victoria Natural History Society. On arriving here he told Dr. Clifford Carl, Provincial Museum director, he would like to renew his acquaintance with Victoria's skylarks which he saw on his last visit to the city a few years ago.

The two men were successful in spotting the birds near Uplands golf course.

"I've been telling people all over the United States about these birds," he said. "This is the only place on the continent where you can find them."

Apparently Mr. Harwell's publicity is having some effect. Joseph Sommers, caretaker at the big radio transmitters at Cadboro Bay near the Uplands golf course, reports that scores of U.S. tourists came to the district this year to see the birds.

The last time Mr. Harwell saw the birds in Victoria he asked for permission to sleep in a cowfield near the fairways of the Uplands golf course in order to take pictures of the skylarks early in the morning.

Secretary-Treasurer G. B. Dickson claimed in a report that access of advances counts, due from the hospital service were always $3,000 in excess of advances.

Coalition Fulfills Pledges-Johnson

Port Renfrew Meeting Told Gov't Has Virtually Carried Out Manifesto

"In two short years" since the last general election the coalition government has carried out nearly all the plans in its 34-point manifesto; Premier Byron Johnson told a Port Renfrew meeting Monday night.

Speaking in support of Percy George, Coalition candidate in the Esquimalt by-election, the premier reviewed most of the points in the manifesto and explained the government's action.

Completion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to Prince Rupert, represents "wonderful possibilities," Premier Johnson stressed.

He referred to the government's pledge to bring an aluminum industry to the province. This, he continued, has been accomplished and $160,000,000 already has been spent.

Total expenditure will be $500,000,000, he said. The speaker pointed out the amount of employment the project has provided. About 1,500 men already are working on the townsite and 1,200 on the damsite.

The Columbia Cellulose Company, he stated, is employing more than 1,200 men at Prince Rupert, and is now considering a $75,000,000 expansion in the Arrow Lakes district. This is in addition to the $27,000,000 project at Prince Rupert.

Premier Johnson also explained the great expansion of the pulp industry. Explaining that the John Hart power development output originally was 26,000 horsepower, and is now 112,000, the premier said if 160,000 horsepower isn't developed there will be a shortage of power on the island.

ROAD PROGRESS

Premier Johnson estimated the province's program of improving main arterial highways would be completed by 1953.

The program of improving secondary roads is being accelerated, he said. British Columbia, the premier told his audience, is the most progressive province in the Dominion of Canada.

Mayor George, reviewing his 21 years in public office, said he was offering himself as a candidate because of an inner urge to serve the public in a broader field of endeavor.

More About ROYAL VISIT

DUNCAN SYMPATHETIC
Even Mayor J. C. Wragg of Duncan, who caused a furore when it was found out his city was to be passed up on the Royal itinerary, thinks the visit should be postponed.

"It's the proper thing to do. It would be a great imposition upon the Princess to come out here. We can't expect it, and I know the people of Duncan are sympathetic."

Meanwhile, Mayor Wragg said he has received a personal reply from Princess Elizabeth, through her private secretary, expressing regret that Duncan has not been listed as a stopping point.

The mayor had written directly to the Royal couple. "I guess I was kind of excited at the time," said Mayor Wragg. "It was very considerate of them to take time out to reply."

COULD SPOIL TOUR
Officials of many Victoria women's organizations expressed similar sentiments. Typical was the reaction of Mrs. H. D. Pariseau of the I.O.E.E., who said:

"It would spoil the tour for the Royal couple if they came here with the worry of the King's illness on their minds. They should feel free to postpone it."

A man-on-the-street survey showed most thinking Victorians favoring postponement of the visit if the King hasn't fully recovered from his illness.

"We can't expect them to come to Canada if their thoughts are taken up with worry about His Majesty," was a frequent reply.

Burmese 'Generous, Lovable' Speaker Tells Intent Crowd

Over 250 persons heard Deputy Minister of Education Dr. F. T. Fairley speak on "Burma" at Victoria College Monday night at the first of a series of 11 lectures arranged by the University Extension Association.

Dr. Fairley, who recently spent several months in Burma with a Unesco mission, spoke of its educational system and industrial development. His lecture was illustrated with colored lantern slides.

Good schools were few in Burma, Dr. Fairley said. The majority of schools were overcrowded and the teaching almost medieval.

The speaker said education lagged because only 5 per cent of the national revenue was set aside for that work.

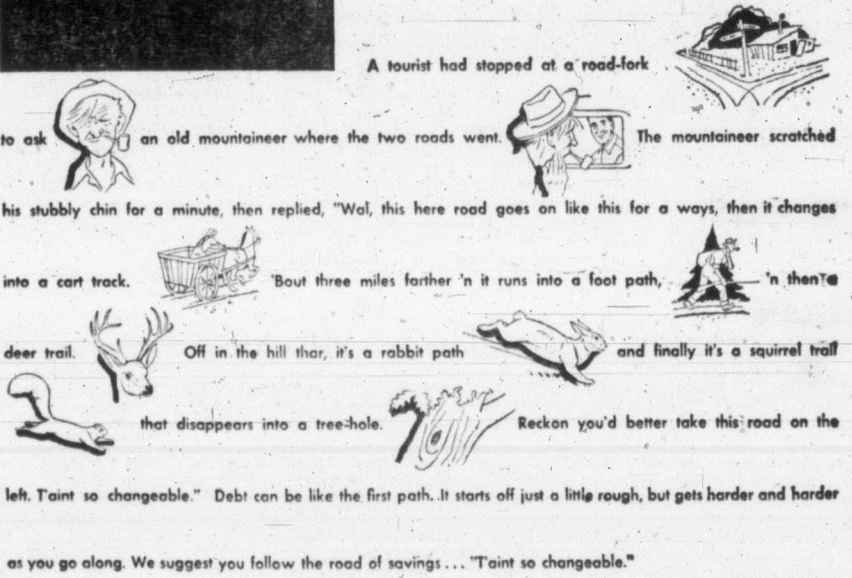

With regard to the people, Dr. Fairley said they were generous and lovable.

Dr. J. R. MacKay, assistant professor, department of geology and geography, U.B.C., will be the next lecturer in the series to be held in the Victoria College auditorium on Oct. 15. He will speak on "Formosa."

Behind the Esquimalt Mists

SOME OF THE CONFUSION surrounding the Esquimalt by-election campaign is removed when the contest is seen in the light of the Progressive Conservative rebellion. Officially, Mayor George is the Coalition candidate. In that position he is supported not only by the premier and the Liberal Party, but by Finance Minister Anson and the Progressive Conservatives who are partners in the Coalition.

Cmdr. Alfred Wurtele is running as an independent. Yet Cmdr. Wurtele has as his campaign manager a former president of the Victoria Federal Progressive Conservative Association. The manager has been censured by that association for acting in Cmdr. Wurtele's behalf, and that censure has produced a statement from an unidentified Esquimalt District Progressive Conservative spokesman to the effect that the bulk of Esquimalt's Conservatives are secretly supporting Wurtele.

That candidate, moreover, appears under the wing of W. A. C. Bennett, who, having made his bid for the B.C. Progressive Conservative Party leadership and having failed, has bolted from Coalition. Now Mr. Bennett appears in the Esquimalt picture in a move interpreted as a test to determine his potentialities as the creator and leader of a new party.

The picture is not clarified by the statements of Minister of Finance Anson who told a Coalition campaign meeting that he did not agree with the method by which hospital insurance is being handled, but accepted the will of the majority. Nor is it brought into sharper focus by the peculiar announcement by Minister of Municipalities R. C. MacDonald to a Port Alberni meeting that the Liberal members of the cabinet are the sole targets of public dissatisfaction and that the Conservative partners are not criticized.

Color Problem In London

WHEN CANADA'S 1936 OLYMPIC track and field team left Berlin, the capital of a Nazi Germany rank with distorted racial attitudes, it traveled to London for the usual post-Olympic meet between the United States and British Commonwealth performers. In the British capital it encountered one of the most severe shocks of its experience.

The Canadian team included two colored members, Dr. Phil Edwards and Sammy Richardson. The team registered at a London hotel and its members dispersed to their rooms. Before they had opened their grips they learned that accommodation had been refused to Dr. Edwards and young Richardson. The Canadians immediately picked up their bags and transferred to a hotel which accepted all members of the team.

That unexpected demonstration of racial discrimination in the capital of Britain, long regarded as the welcoming refuge for the persecuted, comes to mind with the reading of a recent New Statesman and Nation. Last month the publication raised the color question in an article by Mervyn Jones.

The writer cited the experience he had shared with an acquaintance. Both made inquiries regarding lodgings in 10 premises that had advertised rooms to let. Mr. Jones was informed he could have rooms in seven of the 10 places and could share accommodation at another. His acquaintance found open doors at two only. The acquaintance came from Nigeria.

Friends In Need

THE VITAL QUESTION: WOULD MR. Atlee's ex-health minister, Aneurin Bevan, throw the weight of his far-leftist section of the Labor Party into the government's campaign for re-election, has been answered, not unexpectedly, in the affirmative. The split in the socialist party, which no doubt was an important factor in the Prime Minister's decision to appeal to the country at this particular time, had raised a serious issue. The Bevanites' disagreement with the government's policies of rearmament, of close cooperation with the international programs of the United States and of relaxed efforts in further socialization of Britain's economy, had led to a virtual walkout of a large segment of the party.

However, there will be no "splitter" party campaign. Mr. Bevan has offered Mr. Atlee his hand in peace. He and his supporters will "work for the defeat of the Tories with all the power we possess."

The fiery leader of the left wing urges Britain to return the Labor government with a majority large enough to carry out the principles which it espouses, free of the cramping effect of skin-of-the-teeth victories in the Commons. But his week-end statement apparently did not go much farther. He did not say how long he would continue to support Mr. Atlee once Labor had been returned to office. And obviously a general election will do nothing to remove the main problems which now confront the socialist government—rearmament, nationalization of industry, co-operation with the United States in the ideological war, the struggle to maintain trade and monetary balances, and so on.

With Labor returned to power, even with a safer majority, what would Mr. Bevan do? Would he change his views and support the government in its present policies? Or would he, with a larger or smaller group of followers than he now enjoys, continue to push his own programs at the expense of the main bloc of the party? The wavering British voter will wish to have straight answers to those questions before he casts a ballot. A temporary reconciliation, merely to keep the Conservatives out of office, is not likely to satisfy him.

Cultural Opportunity Moving West?

STUDENTS OF THE ARTS, INCLUDING those who believe they can reach their finest flowering only in a wealthy society which can afford patronage to develop them, will be impressed by the words of Astrid Varnay, 30-year-old Swedish-born American who sang Bruenhilde at the Bayreuth Wagnerian performances in Germany.

Miss Varnay urges Europeans who have operatic ambitions to go west to the United States. There, she says, they will find the finest teachers in the world. Not that those teachers need be U.S. natives, but the republic has attracted the greatest experts in the field.

The view of the distinguished operatic star further emphasizes the ascendancy of the New World. For generations it has been recognized as the land of opportunity in the material fields. It offered the poor immigrant from Europe a chance to attain wealth. It promised the persecuted a measure of freedom found in few other countries. But until recent years, it was considered in some quarters to be still a little too raw to provide those elegances which European centres developed against a traditional background of great depth.

Culture is not a thing that can be purchased. Culture does not lend itself easily to explicit definition—some rejecting the conventional idea that it covers only excellence in the field of arts for a more recently popular opinion that it is the reflection of the way people live.

Miss Varnay's remarks do, however, lend support to the argument that culture can find its most fertile soil in an environment where freedom of thought and expression is encouraged and where there is sufficient wealth to permit those who may have a touch of genius to concentrate on its development. That is by no means a pleasing prospect for the U.S. or Canada.

Chips Off The Old Brock

By DAVID BROCK

EVERY TIME I catch myself beginning to think that North Americans are discovering how to eat, I bump into a nasty bit of evidence which persuades me they are also forgetting how to cook. I ran across two staggering bits of evidence in a single article the other night. In the pages of the Vancouver Sun you will find the column of Miss Evelyn Caldwell, otherwise "Penny Wise," who advises you about the latest things she has found in the shops, and tells you about her personal prejudices in food, travel and other matters. Prejudice is often an excellent thing in a column, if reasonably well-informed and the result of the experiences undergone by an observant and witty writer. But ignorance is something else. It can be charming in the very young and very old. In a professional adviser on the subject of the old groceries, however, it becomes both monotonous and maddening.

AFTER telling us about a ready-mixed Welsh-rabbit powder (which sounds even worse when spelt rarebit, as she has it), she says what a novelty it is to read that you can mix a Welsh rabbit with beer. Indeed, her headline says "Now They Put Beer in Welsh Rarebit." "Now" he blazes. They've been doing it for hundreds of years, and quite right, though Escoffier calls for pane, ie instead. "Who ever heard of putting beer in Welsh Rarebit?" asked the astounded Miss Caldwell in her penny wisdom. The answer is "Almost everybody with any interest in the subject."

IN THE next paragraph she tells of dinner rattlesnakes, now selling at $2.65 for 5 ounces, or 53 cents per oz. Which seems a lot, unless you hunger for serpents in an almost Freudian way. Anyhow, she says the snake is "carefully done up in something known only as 'Supreme Sauce.'" What does she mean, something known only as? If she has never eaten in a well-conducted restaurant, she could still look the thing up before writing about it. A good cookery book comes cheaper by the pound than many a rattlesnake, and is almost an essential for anyone wishing even to write about food, let alone prepare it. A Supreme Sauce (I bet there's a circumflex missing over that first E. . . English printing establishments go short on French accents) . . . A Supreme Sauce is a super-duper Veloute Sauce (another accent missing). A Veloute is made with a quart of chicken stock added to a roux of 1/2 cup of butter and 1/2 cup of flour. Its goodness depends on the chicken stock. It cooks slowly for an hour, and then you skim off the butter which has come to the top, and you strain the sauce.

A SUPREME Sauce requires 2 cups of this Veloute, with which you mix more chicken stock . . . a quart of stock cooked down (with two or three mushrooms) until only a third of its original quantity. After mixing, you bring to a boil and add gradually two cups of cream, stirring constantly. Add salt and a little cayenne. Strain. When ready to serve, put a little butter on top to prevent a crust. I can think of better uses for a Supreme Sauce than serving rattlesnakes in it. Chicken, naturally, but other things too. Incidentally, a Supreme of chicken doesn't mean that you'll necessarily get a Supreme Sauce. The sauce is named after the filleted bird and not vice versa. For example, you may have your chicken fillets Parisienne, "poached" in butter, as the French say, and dished up with a Parisienne Sauce, plus truffles, tongue, and stuff. The Parisienne Sauce used to be called a German Sauce, but was changed for patriotic reasons. I wonder if you can ask for a Spanish Sauce any more? It's not safe to mention Spain in many places outside Washington.

INCIDENTALLY, the main dealers in rattlesnakes are said to be the Pennsylvania Dutch, who rendered the fat into a medicinal oil. The oil was used for everything from sore eyes to the Rheumatism. But the Dutch said the oil from a snake that had bitten himself was poison, and they have a simple test for this. I have no idea of why a rattlesnake should want to bite himself, or how he could contrive to do it by his tail, so to speak. But I hope the official meat inspectors have a test for self-bitten rattlesnake meat.

UP TO DATE AND BACK AGAIN ONE of my young (in Grade V) has come home with what is called an Arithmetics (plural) book. One Arithmetic at a time used to be enough for me, but this is a greedy age. In a praiseworthy attempt to capture the imagination of the bored young scholar, the authors have printed pictures of aircraft and other modern romantic subjects, and have set problems on flying, etc., after pointing out (quite rightly) how important arithmetic is in everyday life. This seems a great advance on our old improbable posers about apples and wagon-loads and Farmer Brown.

There is only one drawback. The first picture of an aircraft shows us a fairly light two-motored relic of the early 40's. The test says this is a huge aircraft, about to set off across vast seas with a terrific load. The Grade V pupil knows this is simply a lot of malarkey, and instead of winning his little old confidence, you win his contempt and distrust. Is that a good thing? For certain purposes, perhaps. But not here. The trouble with being up to date is the rapidity with which you grow dated.

O PROMISE ME! ACCORDING to a CP dispatch, the Ontario Court of Appeal has got either itself or the CP mixed up on what marriage is. "When legislation was passed 20 years ago providing for divorce in Ontario, it was not intended to distinguish between dissolution of marriage on the grounds of adultery and dissolution for non-consummation of a marriage." Well, one is forced to distinguish all the same. Adultery can dissolve a marriage that previously existed. But when you annul for non-consummation, you declare that no marriage ever existed. You cannot "dissolve" what never existed. The difference is vital, and couldn't be wider.

Putting His Head In The Lion's Mouth

As Our Readers See It

APATHETIC, SPINELESS

So the price of milk is or has risen? I am wondering how long the public will stand for this and other things. They can write letters and make petitions, etc., until they are black in the face and no notice will be taken, even if it reaches a dollar a quart.

The public are an apathetic, selfish and spineless lot. They have it in their own hands to bring down the price. There is only one way—"Actions speak louder than words." How did the women in England get the vote? The bulldog is a tenacious animal. Verbum sat sapienti.

ELECTION QUESTIONS

Will you allow a few remarks—in the public interest—regarding the election meeting in Langford held by the Independent candidate, Commander Wurtele.

The candidate himself and the two speakers supporting him, Mrs. Tilly Rolston and Mr. Bennett, stressed a 'outrance and his chief qualification as candidate and as something meritorious and outstanding—and to be followed, his independence of parliamentary experience outside of 6 years as councillor in Esquimalt. He admitted he was almost innocent and begged not to be asked too many questions about it; and would learn as he went along, if elected.

When asked by a listener whether Mrs. Rolston and Mr. Bennett were still members of the P.C. party, Mrs. Rolston brushed this facetiously aside as irrelevant. Mr. Bennett took the same stand. But their main theme and justification for their stand was the "autocratic attitude" by the Coalition government, that is the "11 men of the cabinet" at the second phase of its coalition life.

That is as it may be. Parties require leaders, but leaders should lead, not by the nose but democratically by first making wise decisions and then democratically inspired persuasion. At all events they must not be driven with a "whip."

A LANGFORD VOTER.

Under Our Roof

By JOHN RHODES STURDY

THE ULTIMATUM was delivered in the living room the other night. Usually my wife's edicts are thrown at me any old place around the house, but this was a full-dress affair. As soon as she said, "Let's sit quietly in the living room," I knew that something of major importance was in the air, and that I was in for a super-serious proclamation.

"Darling," she began, and I squirmed under the lash. "I realize that, Back East, you came in contact with some rather peculiar people. It was necessary in your work as a reporter, no doubt. And I was reasonable when you announced that Hamish, the janitor's assistant in your old apartment-house, was coming to visit us. I did not complain when you included Col. S. Skelington-Smuts (Ret.). I even accepted Anastasia Wiggins-Wiggins, who is a complete stranger even to you, and I swallowed my revulsion at the thought of Little Augie. But now you have received a letter from Mr. Potts, who evidently is senior janitor to Hamish, threatening to visit us, too, along with Mrs. Potts. That is too much, darling."

"Well—" I began. "I think you said we moved to an island to get away from it all. I never knew exactly what 'all' meant, but if these characters are any part of it, I don't blame you. Except that I don't think we got away far enough. From the letters you've been receiving from prospecting house guests, I think we should have moved to the North Pole—or, anyway, Prince Rupert."

"Now, darling, I want you to sit down at the writing-desk over there and pour forth some of your breathless prose in the form of a letter to Mr. Potts."

"Oh, I know you don't want to do it. I know that you don't want to turn down anybody, but this has gone too far. We might just as well invite the whole apartment-house out here. Mr. and Mrs. Tubbs and Timothy and his worms, and Ian Igffish and the Twittles."

"What?" "What can you say to Mr. Potts? You can scare the life out of him. Tell him that at high tide our house is under water. Tell him about the octopuses who keep crawling in the bedroom windows. Tell him we don't have a liquor store. Tell him—tell him your wife keeps seals in her bathtub."

"That was last year," I managed to say. "Please be quiet until I finish. Now—do you know what I am going to do if you don't write that letter to Mr. Potts?"

"What?" "I'm going to write a letter of my own. I'm going to invite Percy Twee to visit us."

I stared at her in horror. Percy Twee! That insufferable, horrible caricature that used to take my wife tea-dancing in the days when I first met her. That impossible prig! That prancing-sheik with the canary-yellow shoes and brilliant hair. I thought he was dead. I told her so.

"He's by no means dead," she smirked. "I saw his name in the paper the other day. He's done very well—president of a bank or something. SO?"

I staggered to the writing-desk, filled with horror and revulsion. My hand shook as I took up the pen. Percy Twee! O. Hamish, O. Colonel, O. Little Augie—I love you!

Life's Darkest Moment BY H. T. WEBSTER

Bookfires

Montreal Gazette

Dictatorships differ only in their slogans. The patterns of accession to power, the methods used to perpetuate that power, are remarkably alike. Yesterday, Hitler was burning books which disagreed with the fuhrer theory; today, Mao Tse-tung has banned from Chinese schools the philosophy which has governed Chinese morality, public and private, for more than 2,000 years—Confucianism.

Confucius taught that good government was the product of good rulers, first. Such morality is naturally out of place in Communist ideology.

U.S. Revisited—Some Impressions

By STUART KEATE

WRITING in the current issue of Maclean's, managing editor John Clare tells how he was picked up in Jackson, Miss.; finger-printed, searched, held four hours because a silly girl thought he "looked like" Gus Hall, a fugitive Communist.

"As I remained in custody," he wrote, "the impression grew that the F.B.I. hovered powerfully over American life and as mysteriously, if not in the same sinister fashion, as the Communism it was fighting."

Last week-end I had something of the same feeling. Crossing over on the ferry from Sidney to Anacortes, I was asked to produce an "immigration card" which gave my name, age, occupation, citizenship, destination, and intended length of stay in the United States.

CONVERSATION PIECE

The immigration officer at the dock examined this card but apparently wasn't satisfied.

"Where you going?" he demanded. "Missoula, Montana," I replied. "What for?" "To go to a meeting." "What kind of a meeting?" "The Pacific Northwest Trade Association."

The officer regarded me darkly. Then, bending towards me with a searching look, he whispered: "That's not one of them Communist meetings, is it?"

I told this story later to a luncheon meeting of the P.N.T.A.—a group of business men, power company officials, railroaders, chamber of commerce executives and tourist promoters. They roared.

NO BRASS RINGS

To drive into Seattle in the evening, after an absence of 10 years, can be a harrowing experience. Last time I was down there, it seemed impossible that any more gas stations, road-houses, fruit stalls and motels could be squeezed into the four-lane highway leading from Everett—but they can, they can. And they did, they did.

The combination of a roseate Northwest twilight; the garish red, green, yellow and purple neon; and the headlights of cars beaming down the alleys in a frenzied death-race; all gave me the illusion of a wild, lunatic, carousel ride.

Ten miles out of Seattle, I was ready to turn around and head for home. The frenzy reached a fine, incomprehensible peak when, all of a sudden, a pair of headlights came at me in my own lane, veered off at the last moment in a crazy whoop-and-holler and scream of tires.

I was in a cold sweat. "Just some soldiers having some fun," murmured my wife, calmly.

CANADIAN PIONEER

If this reception in the state of Washington was a bit frightening, it was just the opposite in Montana. Five minutes after guests reached their rooms in the Florence Hotel ("the finest small hotel in America"), they advertised, and they're not far wrong) a bowl of flowers came up, courtesy the Missoula chamber of commerce.

Now there's a town. About 40,000; the seat of the State university, which has a famous school of journalism (and a yeasty young school of writers); a town of clean, white buildings and friendly people.

In the lobby of the Florence Hotel there's a handsome bronze plaque dedicated to a Canadian, Charles Herbert McBride, who settled in Missoula in 1880 and became the moving spirit of the area. A former New Brunswicker, he brought out many of the French-Canadians who did the pioneer railroad-building in the west. Today his son is the unofficial panjandrum of the city.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"NOBODY," said the Elevator Man, "has ever come up with a final answer to the question of whether the end justifies the means. Do two wrongs make a right? 'No' seems to be the obvious answer, and then someone pops up with a lot of examples that seem to reverse the verdict. Should you lie to a man with a mortal illness? Should you deceive a child if the true knowledge would harm it? Should you steal back something that's been stolen from you? Should you break the law if it will aid someone else? You can get an argument on any of those questions. Maybe there's no real answer. Maybe good intention is the deciding factor in some cases. Not many of us carry the principle so far as that fella in New York did the other day. A policeman hopped in the fella's car and ordered him to chase a fleeing automobile. The fella did so—but at 25 miles an hour. He said that was the speed limit and he was going to break it even for the law. Go on up."

"There's no doubt," said the Elevator Man, "that a good deal of the world's troubles arise from people who 'mean well.' A person who deliberately and maliciously causes evil can be guarded against. He can be avoided, or imprisoned, or made to see the error of his ways and converted. But the lad with the good intentions is a hopeless case. You can't prove to him he's wrong because he always comes up with a claim to righteousness. You can't discourage him from his trouble-making actions because he personally thinks he's doing a marvellous job. And you can't convert him because he thinks he's converted already. There's no protection against a dyed-in-the-wool meddler. And nobody wins in middle play. Going down!"

"After all, though," said the Elevator Man, "how you do things does count some, I guess. Two people can claim the same sentiment, for instance, and yet be worlds apart in their meaning. A missionary loves his fellow man with sincerity. A cannibal loves him too—with gravity."

HOME GARDEN

by Hilda Beasly

Many of the roses with robust growing habits may be propagated by cuttings, and grown on their own roots. As an interesting experiment, try a few this year.

Take pieces of stems which have borne flowers (this year's growth), cut six to eight inches in length, leaving only the top three buds (tiny reddish growth buds). Rub out the lower ones, to prevent sucker growth later. Prepare a spot in a sheltered border, with good compost covered with a half-inch of sand. Dibble in the cuttings, burying three-quarters of their length, and allowing the sand to fall into the hole for the bottom of the cutting to rest upon. By spring, plant out those which have rooted.

On established rose bushes, cut back any growth of excessive length by one-half, to avoid damage by winds. Do no actual pruning, as this would force new growth which would weaken the plant for next season.

At the Victoria Horticultural Society's Fall Show being held this Friday and Saturday in the Crystal Garden ballroom, there should be many exhibits of the best in fall flowers. The new gardeners in Victoria would do well to visit the show, and make notes of the various flowers which take their fancy. The society's schedule calls for all specimen classes in chrysanthemums, dahlias and Michaelmas daisies to be named, and the same applies to the vegetable and fruit section, which is quite extensive.

Flower arrangements for the home will be featured at this show, using the abundantly rich colors for fall. The more we enjoy flowers in our homes, the more we must grow in our gardens, and it is at such local flower shows that newcomers may see the kind of plants which thrive best in this district.

Veteran Colonist Printer Retiring

Charles Chislett, 70, veteran Victoria-born printer, will retire as night foreman of the Daily Colonist composing room Sept. 30.

His 50 years in the printing trade started with a job as messenger boy for a Victoria printing house, and later took him to many United States cities before he returned to Victoria. When both Victoria daily newspapers moved to the Fountain Circle last May, he was named night foreman in the composing room.

More Power Likely From Campbell Than Buttle Lake, Says Haig-Brown

Additional power for the John Hart Development on Vancouver Island is more likely to come from Upper Campbell Lake than Buttle Lake, in the opinion of Roderick Haig-Brown, author and conservationist.

Mr. Haig-Brown, after studying the announcement that a $568,000 contract had been let by the B.C. Power Commission for extension of the John Hart powerhouse at Campbell River said:

"Either the power commission thinks they have Buttle Lake in the bag, or they intend to build the dam on the alternative site on Campbell River below Upper Campbell Lake."

He considered the latter course to be far more likely for a number of reasons. He pointed out that the Upper Campbell Lake site is one which apparently suits everyone. On the other hand, the Buttle Lake site has been the subject of violent objections.

There is also the fact, Mr. Haig-Brown said, that the power commission has never taken into account as part of the cost of a dam at Buttle, the value of Strathcona Park which would be completely lost.

NEW, MIRACLE ELECTRONIC DISCOVERY HIDES DEAFNESS

CHICAGO (Special)—An amazing new electronic ear which miraculously hides deafness and transmits even whispers with startling clarity, has been revealed by a noted Chicago electronic scientist.

He disclosed that this new wonder discovery has rendered old-style hearing aids obsolete and brings new hope to the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing.

He reported that this electronic ear enables the deaf to hear without any button showing in the ear and without dangling battery wires.

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this new miracle electronic ear which actually hides deafness, full details are described in a fascinating booklet, "New Discoveries to Help the Deaf Hear." It will be sent free in a plain wrapper to anyone who requests it. Address: Electronic Research Director, 1450 W. 19th St., 744H Belmont Building, Chicago, 8, Ill. A postcard will do.

Famous Units' Veterans Honor Dead

By ROY THORSEN

About 300 "old sweats" and newer veterans of the Canadian Scottish Regiment's frontline battalions in two world wars will congregate in Victoria this weekend to take part in the regiment's monster double-feature memorial program.

Members of the famous old 16th Battalion of First World War, whose performance on the field of battle won them the coveted oak leaf won them the coveted oak leaf, will be coming here from as far east as Niagara Falls and Quebec City.

Most of Second World War's "Fighting First" Battalion and others of the 16th will gather from scattered island and mainland points.

The week-end program will open with a huge banquet at 6 Saturday night in Bay Street Armories, when old veterans and new will exchange reminiscences of war days in the trenches and those happier days on leave with pocketfuls full of pound notes, francs, guilders, marks and lire.

VIMY CROSS CEREMONY

Featured in this event will be the remembrance ceremony over the old Vimy Ridge cross, the Scottish memorial to the war dead that has been removed from Pioneer Square and is to be placed in the Armory. A spotlight will illuminate the battered old cross as pipers play the "Lament."

Major Jack Fawcett, chairman of the memorial program, said that movies showing some of the later phases of the regiment's history will be shown. The usual toasts will be proposed. The messes will be open.

At 3 the next afternoon the spotlight will shine on the new mammoth granite $7,000 memorial that has risen in the place of the wooden cross at Pioneer Square. The 16th structure will be unveiled officially and dedicated at a colorful ceremony. The public is invited to attend.

BEARS TWO CRESTS

The memorial is in tribute to Scottish veterans of both wars who made the supreme sacrifice in the face of the enemy. It bears the crests of the old 16th, the First Battalion of the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) at the base, along with a suitable inscription.

The pipe and brass bands of the regiment will take part in the ceremony and will play in the parade of the present reserve battalion from the armories to the square. Veterans of the older and new battalions will join the parade before it reaches the square. The 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th Battalion veterans will meet that parade at View and Quadra, assembling at 2.30. Members of the 16th will parade at the southwest corner of Christ Church Cathedral at 2.30.

Order of the service will be: "O, Canada," announced by

Rev. (H. Capt.) J. L. W. McLean, padre of the present reserve unit; prayer of consecration by Rev. Dr. W. Fingland of Niagara Falls; hymn, "O Valiant Hearts"; reading from the Scriptures, by Rev. Dr. Fingland; the unveiling by Col. Cy. Peck, V.C., the old 16th field commander; the Lament, "Flowers of the Forest," by pipers; prayer of dedication by Very Rev. H. L. Seaborn, Quebec City, the 1st Battalion's padre in the last war; laying of wreaths; hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past"; Blessing, Very Rev. Seaborn; "Last Post"; "Reveille" and "God Save the King."

TEA FOR LADIES

Tea will be served at the armory following the ceremony for members, their wives and lady friends.

Lt.-Col. Walter Mosedale, commanding the reserve unit, said that the new memorial represents all religious denominations, just like Vimy Cross.

Invitations have gone out to 50 persons—legal unit and higher formation commanders, government, municipal and police officials—to attend the service Sunday.

WREATH FROM KING

Col. the Hon. Clarence Wallace, C.B.E., Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia, will lay the wreath for the King at the base of the memorial. Charles Banks, honorary colonel of the regiment and former Lieut.-Governor of B.C., will place a wreath on behalf of Princess Mary. Byron Johnson, M.P.E., Premier of B.C., will place one as a tribute from the province. Other wreaths will be placed on behalf of the bereaved of the two overseas battalions, the Royal Scots, the City of Victoria and the Regimental Association.

Veterans in civvies are requested to wear their medals.

GUNNERS WANT CADETS

The active 75th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment is looking for boys who have a yen to learn soldiering and crafts at a youthful age. There is lots of room for them in the cadet corps. Further information can be obtained by telephoning G5032.

The 75th this month lost one of its most valued officers, Major Paul Bogehund, chief instructor. He has left the local scene for a new job as assistant administrator to the project manager of the Kitimat Constructors' Association in Vancouver.

The Canadian Scottish's colorful brass band under Lieut. John Tamblin and other Scottish entertainers, won thanks this week from the Solarium for the benefit concert they staged in Beacon Hill Park recently, which netted the institution $170.

GOING TO EUROPE

Lt.-Col. Mosedale will visit the Canadian Scottish's "E" Company in the Highland Battalion of the 27th Brigade at Valcartier, Que., early next month. The bri-been selected to play numbers the Parliament Buildings in the during the inspection of the ar- opening phase of the Royal visit tillery honor guard in front of here Oct. 14-15.

You mean... WE'RE NOT squirrels?

"NO SQUIRREL," frowned Sammy, "would ever do what you've done today!"

"But all I did was buy five new moss pillows," retorted Sophie, his wife.

"Ummhmm," said Sammy. "Did we need to get new moss pillows?"

"No," answered Sophie, "but everybody knows there's a terrific shortage of moss—so moss pillows are getting scarcer and scarcer. Besides, the prices are bound to go higher."

"They certainly will if everybody follows your example," growled Sammy. "That sort of buying just sends prices up higher. But what worries me is—what's happening to our savings."

"Savings?" echoed Sophie. "How can we save when the cost of living is higher than a Douglas Fir? Take this tail brush, for instance. Ten years ago I could buy one for five measly beechnuts. Now they cost two horse-chestnuts. Or take . . ."

and buying savings bonds. Or leave town."

"Leave town?" gasped Sophie. "For heaven's sake why?"

"Because," said Sammy, "everybody thinks squirrels are savers. So if people find out we're not saving, they'll say we're not squirrels! We'll be exiled. Banished."

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Sophie. "I never thought of that. I'm sorry, Sammy. From now on I'll really try to save every way I can. Oak!"

"Oak!" said Sammy.

Bennett Faces Well Organized Questioners

A barrage of questions from the floor failed to rattle W. A. C. Bennett, South Okanagan, at View Royal last night when he spoke in support of Independent candidate, A. C. Wurtele in the forthcoming Esquimalt by-election campaign.

With his usual rapid-fire delivery, the one-time Coalitionist answered question after question from an apparently organized group at the meeting. On only one query—a hospital insurance question—did he appear uncertain, but he eventually came up with an answer to that.

One member of the audience asked Mr. Bennett what he would do about hospital insurance when he formed his new party.

The speaker quickly replied that a Victoria Times story referring to a new party did not originate with him.

"Well, I would ask you to re-putate it," the questioner urged. Mr. Bennett promised a statement.

(Questioned today, Mr. Bennett declined to confirm the report that he would organize an independent new party.)

Everyone, he said, would have a clearer view of what was necessary in the reform of hospital insurance when the present inquiry board completes its task.

FACTS NOT AVAILABLE

Mr. Bennett added that he had tried to get certain financial information about the hospital insurance service, but was told it was against the government policy to release such data. He reminded his audience he had recommended on the floor of the House formation of an investigating committee.

Another question directed to Mr. Bennett was: "Why, when you crossed the floor, did you not resign from your constituency and demand another election?"

The South Okanagan member replied he had reserved the right ahead of time to disagree with the government. When he returned to his constituency, he said, there were no dissenting votes on his action at two large meetings.

"Why should I have resigned?" he asked.

ELECTORS' CONFIDENCE

"Do you still consider yourself a Conservative?" a woman asked Mrs. Tilly Rolston.

"I went back to my riding and got an overwhelming vote of confidence from the Conservatives in my riding," replied the Point Grey member.

"Are you still a member of the Conservative party?" the woman persisted.

"I'm here to support Mr. Wurtele. I'm independent, and my own particular philosophy happens to be my own. I left the Coalition," said Mrs. Rolston.

'I MAY BE DEAD BY THEN'

"Will Mr. Wurtele run as a Conservative, Liberal or Independent two years from now in the general election?" was another query.

"I'm making no promises. I may be dead by then," replied the candidate.

"If this by-election goes the right way, the government will only have two or three months—not two years," added Mr. Bennett.

Earlier Mr. Bennett said he favored a "real inquiry" into the liquor situation—one which would look into all corners.

"I'm not going to mention all the corners," he cracked.

BORROW FOR OVERDRAFT

Mr. Bennett hit out at B.C.'s $180,000,000 debt, and added that $26,300,000 of the $35,000,000 recently borrowed from the United States was to pay an overdraft at the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

"If ever a government was caught off base, it was then," declared the speaker, who said the

ONLY TRULY, TRULY FAIR INDEPENDENT

LUXTON—Declaring himself the only "true independent candidate" in the Esquimalt by-election, Archibald McIntyre said last night he wanted to be "free to represent the people."

"Tom Uphill of Fernie is the only Independent M.L.A.," he said.

Speaking to a small gathering in Luxton Hall, he called the present government "the most dictatorial the country has ever seen, and far from being humanitarian, as stated recently by Mayor Percy George."

He illustrated his point with the demand on loggers for hospital insurance arrears after they had worked so little, co-insurance in the hospital scheme, and the five-year drivers' licenses.

existing government is "Saturday night rich."

He claimed one top civil servant recently was given a salary increase of $5,000, making a total of $12,500. No wonder, he said, there was discord among rank and file government employees.

Mrs. Rolston also criticized the big salary boost, asking why there wasn't a general revision.

Cmdr. Wurtele said he stood for democratic form of government and free enterprise. The hospital insurance plan, he stated, should be amended to make it more palatable. He struck out at the reduction ordered in the hospital budgets.

"It is high time there was a revision of our liquor laws," he stated. "I would suggest a plebiscite."

Independents Useless, C.C.F. Speaker Claims

Independents are useless in a Parliament where party affiliations are dominant, Arthur Turner, C.C.F. member for Vancouver East, said at Sooke.

Speaking in support of Frank Mitchell, Esquimalt by-election candidate, Mr. Turner said the Independents are separated from the main body of members and ignored by the government.

Mr. Mitchell told the meeting B.C. forests are not being developed according to the needs of the people, but on the amount of raw or semi-raw materials exported to the United States.

WIGAN, Lancashire, Eng. (Reuters)—Tom Hurst, 38, on Monday, was fined £15 and costs for wounding a couple necking in his cornfield. Hurst testified that he fired one barrel of his shotgun to scare them away because he thought they were grain thieves. Elsie Mulrow and Roy Moore, both 19, were treated for slight buckshot wounds in the face.

Ponder D.S.T. Extension

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—Governors of Oregon, Washington and Idaho today pondered the proposal of extending daylight saving time 30 days to help ease the critical Pacific Northwest power shortage.

Fast time is scheduled to end at 2 a.m. Sunday.

The chief executives, attending a Columbia Basin interagency committee meeting here, were informed by northwest power pool officials that such an extension during October would add 250,000 kilowatts peaking and 100,000 kilowatts of average power consumption.

Oregon's Gov. Douglas McKay, who promised his decision before he left late today for the governors' conference in Tennessee, said he might favor the proposal if Oregon law would permit the extension.

STAR WEEKLY STORY DESCRIBES Royal Nursery

A royal mother has a double life. Heiress to the throne, Princess Elizabeth is called on to perform many state duties. Her visit to Canada is a typical example. And like all mothers of small children, their care and well being must be her constant consideration. Helen Cathcart, authority on the royal family, has written a special article for this week's Star Weekly entitled "How Can She Leave the Children?" The answer is a carefully planned and conducted routine under selected supervisors. This special Star Weekly feature is a detailed description of life in the royal nursery and character sketches of the women to whose care Prince Charles and Princess Anne will be entrusted while their royal parents visit Canada.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

"What's going on down at the Memorial Arena these days?" Operator 13 bellowed into the blower bright and early Monday morning. "See where they're trying to keep my friends of terrible section seven under wraps for a few weeks. Don't they realize this'll make 'em really boil if they can't greet their old pal Murphy on Thanksgiving Day."

"Yeh, better get down and check on the trouble," the boss answered. "See what you can dig up."

"Soon as I get my breakfast," the uncouth sleuth replied. "Just got home you know. Been up at Calgary where they're making plans to join the Western International Baseball League."

A couple of hours later Operator 13 was on the buzzer again. "Guess what," he sputtered. "I got all the dope."

"Spill it," said the boss, "and don't leave out the details."

"Right," said the supercilious spy. "It's like this: 'These guys are talking. There's the fellow from the ice machine company, a worried-looking bird called 'Joe,' a scholarly appearing gentleman named 'Carl,' who looks like he wished he was somewhere else, and some others."

"Be open Oct. 8?" says Joe hopefully.

"Hardly likely," was the answer.

"Oct. 14?"

"Hardly likely."

"Oct. 24, huh?"

"Mmmm, maybe."

"How about the brine, can we save that?"

"Not likely."

"But it's worth $400."

"You guys have spent a million or so already; why worry about $400?"

"What about the hockey?"

"Hockey? No hockey; no ice."

"Bad as that, eh?"

"Worse!"

"What'll I tell the press, the public, Lester?" Joe pleaded.

"Tell 'em nothing."

"But I already told 'em there would be a delay of three weeks."

"Change it. Tell 'em there's nothing to report. We have to be sure this time."

Who's Going To Tell Lester?

"Four weeks," says this guy from the ice-making outfit. "The pipes are half shot."

"Know just how they feel, too," commented Operator 13.

"What about the Cougars' contract?"

"Oh! Not again. Do we have to go through that again?"

"You will when Lester hears of this."

"Where is he?"

"In Saskatoon."

"Thank goodness!"

"He'll be mad."

"Don't mention his name; we've got enough trouble. Ooohh!"

No! No Trouble, Nothin' At All

"Understand you've had trouble here before," this expert says.

"Not much."

"What about the roof. Doesn't it leak?"

"Well maybe a little. It's not too bad if you wear a raincoat, though."

"How about the floor. Doesn't it heave?"

"Not bad, just eight inches or so; nothing to worry about."

"Heard the clock fell down once, too."

"Well, yes, but there was nobody under it at the time."

"Would have been a little messy if there had, eh?"

"Yeh, suppose so."

"What about the roof? Heard it came apart once."

"Just one piece at a time. Nobody hurt though."

Hear No Evil, See No Evil, Speak . . .

"The public address system?"

"It's okay now. Just couldn't hear it for a few months, that's all."

"The furnace?"

"Nothing serious. Used to fill the building with smoke. Scared the folks a little at first, but they got used to it."

"People here happy about things?"

"Not likely."

"You fellows on the commission happy in your work?"

"Not likely."

"Going to tell the Cougars about this?"

"Not likely."

"Well, see you tomorrow. Have a good night's sleep."

"Huh! Who you kiddin'?"

FIGHT CARDS RETURN

Leather-Pushers To Start Operations Soon

The smell of resin will be filling the confines of the Victoria Ballroom soon, as once again, the Vancouver Island Amateur Boxing Association stages its juvenile boxing matches.

The bouts will start on Oct. 4, and will be staged on alternate Thursday nights. There will be 12 bouts each night, the fights consisting of three two-minute rounds.

Officials for the matches will be chosen from the Referees and Judges Association. They are: George Schull, Billy Knowles, Gerry Griffin, Al Duval and possibly Eddie Haddad.

Boxing clubs from Victoria, Nanaimo, Port Alberni, Vancouver, Fraser Valley and West Westminster, will participate in the bi-monthly affairs. It is hoped that a club from Port Angeles will be represented also.

The first two cards will be sponsored by the V.I. Boxing Association. From then on, each fight will be sponsored by one of the clubs in the association. All boxing shows will be inter-club matches.

Clubs from the Victoria district putting on shows are St. Louis College whose trainers are Louis Callan and Ed Duffin, Esquimalt under trainer Nick Lister and the Victoria Police Boxing Club with trainers Bill Knowles and Eddie Haddad.

The association is also hoping to form a club in James Bay, as they have the training facilities and equipment necessary.

Boxing season will extend right through from September to April and the Golden Glove matches will be staged approximately Feb. 7. After that, will come the Silver Glove fights.

Officials of the Vancouver Island Amateur Boxing Association this year are: Jim Audain, president; George Hamilton, first vice-president; Fred Buxton, second vice-president; secretary, Al Duval; treasurer, Reginald Pring; registrar, Nick Lister.

Audain is also third vice-president of the B.C. Amateur Boxing Association.

RUGBY PRACTISE

J.B.A.A. junior and senior rugby clubs will hold practices Tuesday and Thursday nights at Central Junior High School at 6.45. All last year's players and others interested are asked to attend.

NEW YORK (UP)—Shouting that there was "no half way about it, we're shooting the works for all or nothing," manager Leo Durocher made it plain that he still thinks his incredible Giants can win the National League pennant.

The Giants had just pulled out another dramatic victory on game Eddie Stanky's two-out single in the last of the ninth that provided a 4-3 series-sweeping decision over the tough Braves. The victory put the Giants within 2½ games of the jittery Dodgers—still a pretty big lead to overcome with only four more games on the Giant schedule.

Durocher, whose remarkable stretch-running boys have won 33 of their last 40 games and eight of their last nine, admitted that the Giants just had to keep winning to stay alive—and that he was figuring nothing less than four straight victories.

The Giants had to come off the floor for their dramatic victory yesterday in the only game played in the majors. Don Mueller led off the ninth with a single and pinch-hitter Bill Rigney sacrificed. Ray Noble, failed as a pinch hitter, popping up, but the pestiferous Stanky drove the first pitch down the third base line. Sibby Sisti deflected the ball but couldn't handle it and pinch-runner Dave Williams streaked in with the winning tally.

Dave Koslo, who pitched 313 scoreless relief innings gained his 10th victory, beating rookie Chet Nichols, who had the better of it until the fatal ninth.

Mrs. W. Erickson captured the low net honors with a 79, while Mrs. V. S. Godfrey followed up with an 80.

The next competition will be held at the Gorge Vale Golf Club, Monday, Oct. 1, at 10.30. Entries must be in by Thursday.

Combos Pasted In Mann Cup Opener

Petes At 'Worst' Much The Better

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Combines today were faced with the problem of running around Peterborough Petes' stonewall defence.

They ran into it at full tilt last night and bounced off with a 16-9 loss in the first game of the best-of-seven series for the Canadian senior lacrosse championship. Second game will be played at Victoria Wednesday.

Vancouver Coach Johnny Cavallin commented: "They're big boys. We've got to find more speed and we'll have to run around them. But we'll beat them."

Playing Coach Don Crowe's comment: "We were terrible. We haven't played such poor lacrosse in our last 12 games. Nobody hardly ever gets a chance to shoot at our goal as often as Combines did."

SLOW BUT SURE

Petes went about their victory slowly and methodically, forcing Vancouver to play their kind of game. The game was so slow at times the 2,500 fans began yelling for more action. Westerners are used to the fast-breaking, running game.

Vancouver led 4-3 at the half by making the most of their chances. But their forwards took a harsh pummeling from the bigger Peterborough team.

When Combines had been bounced around and ground down sufficiently, Petes moved in for the kill. They were still just as deliberate.

They outscored Combines 6-2 in the third quarter to take a 9-6 lead and ran in seven more in the final stretch compared to Vancouver's three. Their passing around the crease had the westerners' defense as dizzy as a top and their shooting was hard and on the mark.

Curly Mason threw in four goals for Petes on five shots at the net. Nip O'Hearn batted three for four and Harry Whipper and Russ Slater each scored two. The singles went to Dootch Vitarelli, Crowe, Bob Thorpe, Merv McKenzie and Denny Peterson.

BUCHANAN NETS TRIO

Harry Buchanan scored three for Vancouver, all in the last period, and Jim Kinna and Bert Ticehurst had two apiece. Jim Anderson and Roy Cavallin got the others.

Anderson hit Peterborough goalie Moon Wootton with a bullet drive near the end of the first half and the ball went through the netminder's mask. His eye turned black but was undamaged. He returned for the rest of the game.

First Quarter—1. Vancouver, Kinna 4:3; 2. Peterborough, Vitarelli 7:57. Penalties—Buchanan, Cavallin, Mason, O'Hearn, Crowlton, Leatherbarrow.

Second Quarter—3. Vancouver, Kinna 1:20; 4. Vancouver, Anderson (Whisper) 1:50; 5. Vancouver, Cavallin 4:11; 6. Peterborough, O'Hearn 4:51; 7. Peterborough, Mason (Pewless) 8:10. Penalty—O'Hearn.

Third Quarter—8. Peterborough, Mason 1:10; 9. Vancouver, Ticehurst 2:35; 10. Vancouver, Ticehurst 4:50; 11. Peterborough, Mason (Whisper) 6:31; 12. Peterborough, Whipper (Slater) 7:00; 13. Peterborough, Crowe 7:30; 14. Peterborough, McKenzie (Thorpe) 7:51; 15. Peterborough, O'Hearn 8:20. Penalties—Whipper, Byford, Mason, Smith.

Fourth Quarter—16. Peterborough, O'Hearn 1:41; 17. Peterborough, Slater 3:02; 18. Vancouver, Buchanan 7:36; 19. Peterborough, Slater (Peterson) 7:44; 20. Peterborough, Thorpe (Crowe, O'Hearn) 8:52; 21. Peterborough, Mason (Crowe) 12:24; 22. Peterborough, Peterson (Pewless) 12:37; 23. Vancouver, Buchanan (Slater) 12:44; 24. Peterborough, Whipper 12:50; 25. Vancouver, Buchanan 14:25.

HAVE HEARD RUMORS

Cougars Officially In Dark About Arena

By BILL WALKER

There may not be any ice in Victoria's Memorial Arena for another month, but the party most interested—the Victoria Hockey Club, doesn't know anything about it—officially, that is.

"As far as the Cougars are concerned," club representative Leo Ornest said Monday, "we are still going ahead with plans for the season's opener against Vancouver Canucks on Monday, Oct. 8."

"We have heard rumors and read in the press that the arena will not be available for at least a month, but until we receive official notification (in writing) we can only assume that the ice will be ready."

General manager Fred Hutchinson, who is in Saskatoon with the Cougars, expressed similar sentiments. "There is nothing we can do until we are informed officially of the delay," Hutchinson told Ornest, when informed of the possibility of such a delay.

However, if a delay in the season's hockey opening is caused by the present trouble to the ice-making machinery—and it seems likely—then the change in schedule will have to be worked out to the satisfaction of the Victoria Cougars.

League president Al Leader of Seattle expressed consternation at the thought there might be a delay, but said no action would be taken by league headquarters until the Cougars requested it.

"If any delay is caused," Leader said, "the scheduled games will have to be made up later in the season with the approval, and to the satisfaction of the Victoria Hockey Club."

Leader also pointed out that last year the Seattle Arena was supposed to be ready by Oct. 1, but wasn't. It wasn't until late in November that the Ironmen were able to play on their home floor.

By that time Seattle was in the league cellar, and though they made a spirited bid to make the playoffs, failed, and wound up in fifth place, two points ahead of the cellar occupants, Vancouver Canucks.

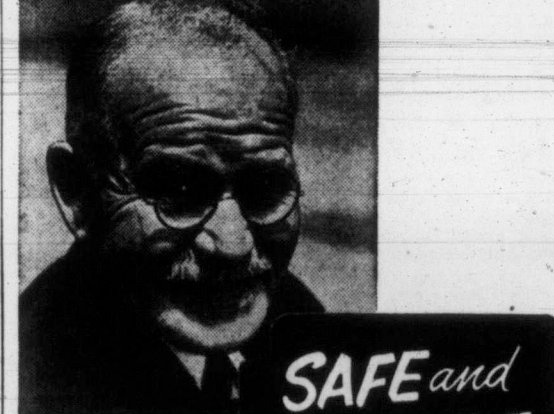

Meanwhile, it is quite possible that the Cougars may only lose one game through the delay.

It was learned unofficially last night there is a strong possibility that repairs could be completed by Oct. 9, one day after scheduled opening. However, final decision rests with the arena commission on how these repairs will be carried out. The commission is meeting again today on the matter and a definite announcement is expected this afternoon.

"We want to make certain this doesn't happen again," commission chairman Carl Pendray said. "And we feel the trouble should be rectified for once and for all."

Efforts To Separate Siamese Twins Failure

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Surgeons decided Monday that it would be impossible to separate Rock Island's Siamese twins. The twins, both boys, were born Sept. 16 to Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie, parents of three other normal children. A doctor told reporters that the youngsters, joined at the tops of their heads, appear to have a common circulatory system.

Honored For Forty Years' Service

Special tribute was paid William C. Hudson Monday night by Great-West Life Assurance Co. to mark his 40th year of service with the firm. Members of the company's Victoria office staff and their wives attended a dinner held in Mr. Hudson's honor at which he was presented with a company scroll and fine set of luggage. The presentation was made by D. E. Kilgour, left, assistant general manager, who came from Winnipeg especially to take part. Mr. Hudson has been connected with the firm's Victoria office for more than 20 years. (Times photo.)

Hurricane Victims Need Help

Victorians will be given an opportunity next month to aid Jamaicans who are homeless and in great need because of the summer hurricanes which swept their Caribbean island.

Local citizens will be asked to contribute light-weight clothing to aid the cause. A collection centre will operate from Oct. 1 to 10 in the old Colonist building on Broad Street. The office will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The appeal has been endorsed by Acting Mayor Frank Mulliner.

"This is a most deserving cause," he said.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Peiping radio Monday heralded the production of the first jeep in Red China. The broadcast, heard here by the Associated Press, said the jeep was turned out at the Tientsin automobile assembly plant. The plan is to present Chinese leader Mao Tse Tung with two jeeps on Oct. 1, Red China's National Day.

Husband, 67, Asks Alimony Of Rich Mate

SAN FRANCISCO UP—Jacob Solomon, 67, wants his wife to pay him $1,500 a month separate maintenance so that he can live in a manner justified by her income.

Solomon filed a separate maintenance suit yesterday against his wife, Rachel, of San Carlos, Calif., under a new state law allowing husbands to demand alimony of their wives in separate maintenance and divorce suits.

Solomon said he and his wife were married in Hong Kong 47 years ago and came to San Francisco as refugees in 1940. He said he lost all his money when the Japanese invaded China, but that his wife "hung on to some."

When they arrived here, he said, she invested some $250,000 in peninsula real estate. He said she also owns $250,000 worth of property in China and has a monthly income of $3,000.

Despite this, however, he claimed:

"(Mrs. Solomon) refused to live or permit the plaintiff to live in a manner justified by said wealth and income and insists upon living in a humble, miserly fashion, causing the plaintiff mental anguish and suffering, it being his wish and desire that plaintiff and defendant live together in a manner justified by their income."

New Swiss Discovery for Eczemas, Boils, Psoriasis, Leg Ulcers

Authentic photograph of R. R. Obermiller on March 17, before treatment with F-99.

Authentic photograph of R. R. Obermiller on June 5, after 10 weeks treatment with F-99.

EMINENT Scientists have discovered that the lack of unsaturated fatty acids in human nutrition is one of the main causes of skin diseases, such as Eczemas, Boils, Leg Ulcers and Psoriasis. The modern diet, in which these essential substances are often completely lacking, have brought about a deficiency in a great number of individuals.

Remarkable Swiss Discovery

A Swiss chemist, Dr. W. Schmitz, succeeded after 10 years of research work in extracting from pure vegetable oils an unsaturated fatty acid in a concentration of 99% and therefore named F-99. Thanks to this hitherto unattained purity, F-99 is so readily absorbed into the blood stream, that it has a decisive biological activity in the treatment of skin diseases.

Illustrated Booklet on F-99

containing all the interesting facts concerning this remarkable new Swiss Discovery which will bring new health and happiness to innumerable skin sufferers, can be obtained free of charge from any good drug store. Diva Laboratories, Dept. 814 P.O. Box 116, Victoria, B.C.

Natural way to clear up skin troubles F-99 is not a synthetic drug but a concentrate of natural nutritive substances. It is so harmless that it may be given even to infants without any hesitation. Its remarkable efficiency in the treatment of Eczemas, Boils, Leg Ulcers and Psoriasis has astonished even Skin Specialists of international reputation. As its name suggests, the F-99 Two-Way Treatment acts internally as well as externally. While F-99 Capsules or Liquid give the body the power to suppress the cause and combat successfully skin disease, the F-99 Ointment treats its external, visible symptoms. To many thousands of skin sufferers all over the world, F-99 Two-Way Treatment has already proved its tremendous value and is being used with outstanding results even on cases where all ordinary treatments have failed. In severe cases medical advice should always be taken.

More than a Story of Steel and Stone

The new Bank of Nova Scotia Building in Toronto, opened September 25, 1951.

The BANK of NOVA SCOTIA

Your BNS Manager is a good man to know. At the Victoria Main Branch he is J. A. Baxter. At the Douglas and Hillside Branch he is P. B. Coombs.

On September 25, 1951, The Bank of Nova Scotia officially opened the new home of the Bank's General Office and Main Toronto Branch in the Bank of Nova Scotia Building, King and Bay Streets, Toronto.

Thus another chapter is written in the life and growth of a nation. More than a story of steel and stone, the new building is part of the vigorous life of the nation. It came into being through the ever-expanding demand for increased banking service by Canadians and through a busy city's need for many thousands of additional square feet of modern office space. It tells a story in form and substance, of confidence in Canada's future.

Materially, the building is the third highest bank building in the British Empire and the most modern structure of its kind in Canada. Its 25 floors enclose 320,000 square feet of floor space, providing everything that is new in modern banking and commercial office accommodation. It is veritably a city within a city... a city that thousands of men and women will enter daily in the course of business.

The new Bank of Nova Scotia Building means more than modern banking services and office accommodation. It is a magnificent symbol of Canada's progress. It is a building we invite you to visit when you are next in Toronto.

MAIN BANKING ROOM—Functional perfection and architectural excellence combine to provide swift and efficient banking service.

Rain Inadequate To Lift B.C. Forest Closure Order

ALL 26 FIRES UNDER CONTROL IN VANCOUVER FOREST AREA

All 26 fires burning in the Vancouver Forest District are under control, B.C. Forest Service reported today.

At the once-menacing Mt. Benson fire at Nanaimo, 60 men, three bulldozers, and two tank trucks are keeping the fire contained.

At the height of the danger last week a force of more than 700 men with 26 bulldozers fought the flames.

The Lands Creek fire, in Lake Cowichan area, which blazed up suddenly last week, is now under control and guarded by 30 men, and 11 men patrol the 22,000-acre fire at Campbell River that is still smouldering.

PER CAPITA ROADS' COST $20 PER YEAR

Big Percentage Of B.C. Bill Goes For Maintenance, Minister Reveals

The present road building program in B.C. calls for expenditure of $20 a year for every man, woman and child in the province.

This was reported in a radio address Monday night by Works Minister E. C. Carson.

He said $27,000,000 was being spent this year on road work, $17,000,000 on main and secondary road construction and the remainder on maintenance.

Type of roads being built now was costly, but the roads will stand up for 20 years or more with little maintenance, the minister said.

He felt that $20 per person per year being spent on roads was fair in view of the cost of other essential services the government must maintain.

Urges Auto Races On Tofino Beach

The beach at Tofino, on the west coast of Vancouver Island, would be ideal for auto races, according to Frank Bird, secretary-manager of the B.C. Automobile Association, who announced from Vancouver today the association will offer aid to Tofino Chamber of Commerce in promoting construction of a 35-mile highway from Ucluelet to Tofino.

The beach is one of the finest in the world, he said. From 15 to 20 cars can drive abreast on the sand.

Ranger Permit Allows Many Crews To Work

Cautious forestry officials today had no word on the lifting of the closure in the woods.

Rain fell Monday on the southern and northern tips of Vancouver Island.

Logging camps in many areas throughout the Vancouver forest district are reported to have resumed limited operations under district ranger permits.

However, forest service officials said there will be no lifting of the general forest closure order until the woods have been soaked with a good 24-hour rain. Only light rainfall was reported in the areas of major fires Monday. But it assisted firefighters and all big fires are in "good shape" today. The change in weather has enabled fire fighters to consolidate their lines.

WORK STOPS EARLY

Under special permits, logging operations are allowed up to about 2 p.m., with work closing down during the late afternoon when the fire hazard increases.

Camps resuming operations today include those of Bloedel, Stewart & Welch, Ltd., on Vancouver Island.

Weather forecasts are for cool and cloudy weather, but no heavy rain is yet in sight on the coast. Relief is expected in the interior, however. The forecast is for snow as far south as Quesnel.

Weather officials said .11 ins. of rain fell on Victoria Monday. There was a trace at Comox, and 3 inches at Vancouver.

Victorian Named Huron Commander

A Victoria man has just been named to captain the east-coast destroyer Huron, recently returned from service in Korea.

Naval headquarters announced that Cmdr. J. C. Little, of this city, will take command of the ship from Cmdr. E. T. G. Madgwick, of Halifax, who is to be moved to a naval post in Ottawa.

Cdr. Little has been executive officer of the Stadacona shore base and officer in command of the destroyer Micmac.

REEVE WANTED TO MUZZLE PRESS Gives Affront To Committee

Reeve A. I. Thomas demanded that Esquimalt Council Monday that newspapers refrain from reporting a brush-clearing altercation. He threatened unless the press acceded "you'll go out that door."

It seems Reeve Thomas and Councillor Alex Speirs had accepted responsibility for clearing a small area near the Maynard Block at Esquimalt Road and Grenville. Partly privately owned, it is intended for parking and bus facilities.

Councillors John Carey and James Bryant disapproved an arrangement which ignored the council's works committee. That was what brought warm words from the Reeve's threat to the reporters.

In future, all such matters as the Maynard Block clearing will be referred to Council.

Ratepayers had asked for a $5,000 appropriation for lights. Councillor William Dallaway thought the time had come for action.

Council moved to obtain information on installation costs of essential traffic controls, although Councillor Bryant thought another policeman on the staff might suffice.

STUDY SEWAGE SCHEME

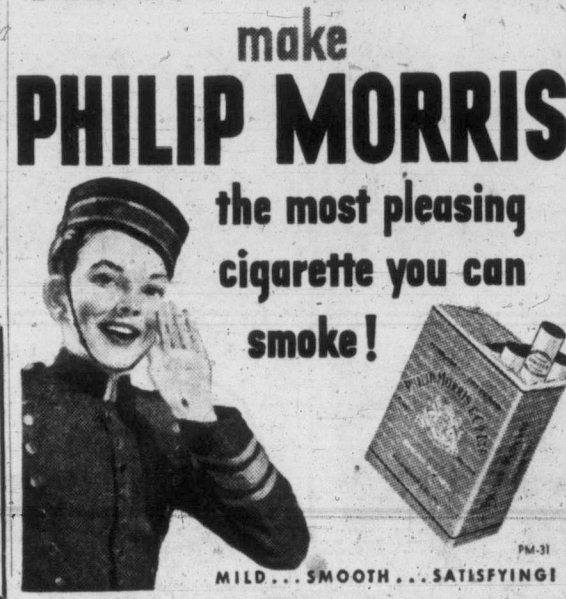

Council decided to investigate financing methods in connection with a proposed sewage scheme for Skinner Flats, estimated to cost $17,546.

Some councillors believe taxes are being lost because no collector is on the staff. Road and poll taxes, business and dog taxes, they fear, are being missed. Council will study the problem.

TRAFFIC A HEADACHE
Commenting that Esquimalt traffic is a headache, Councillor G. R. Guillemaud said the time is near when control lights would be needed. Worst bottleneck is at Esquimalt and Admirals Roads.

Maj. Pat Tighe Coming Home

There was joy in the 764 Snowdrop household of Major Pat Tighe, second in command of the 2nd Bn. of the P.P.C.L.L. today, following the news "daddy" is coming home from the Korean fighting front.

Major Tighe will see one of his children for the first time.

His 11-months son was born two days after his father left for Korea.

His wife, Mrs. Rose Tighe, the mother of twins and an 11-months-old baby boy, received word last night that her husband is expected to arrive by air at the Vancouver Sea Island Airport tomorrow in a draft of 25 other Patricia's, weather conditions permitting.

The 36-year-old major, who saw plenty of rugged action with the Loyal Edmonton Regiment on the Italian front in the Second World War, commanded the Pats for more than three months, while Lt.-Col. "Big Jim" Stone, Armstrong, was in Canada on compassionate leave after a bout of smallpox.

He will be the second Victorian to return to his home town under the army's "home for Christmas"

Tried To Hide Girl's Body, Witness Says

Friend Of Accused Tells Of Talk With Sanger Over Gruesome Find

Evidence that 60-year-old Daniel Leroy Sanger sought the aid of a friend to dispose of the body of a girl who had died in his Simcoe Street apartment was revealed in city police court today.

This disclosure came in the preliminary hearing into the charge against the sickly-appearing, grey-haired man who is charged with murdering Mrs. Gwendolyn Doris Casswell, attractive 24-year-old telephone operator, in his apartment on the week-end of Sept. 8-9.

James J. Proudfoot, who will become city prosecutor Oct. 1, is acting for the Crown in the case and Arthur P. Dawe is counsel for the accused.

Mr. Proudfoot's prize witness was Albert Edwin Tilley, 1029

Lodge Avenue, baggage checker for the C.P.R.

Tilley, who said he had known Sanger for about four years as a friend, said the accused telephoned him to come over to his apartment about 8 on the night of Sept. 9.

Was Helping Girl; She Died

"When I arrived, Sanger said (with an oath or prayer) 'kid, I was helping a girl tonight and she died,'" witness related.

Witness said Sanger told him Mrs. Casswell died about 6:30.

Tilley said when he went into the living room and saw the dead girl on the couch, he felt sick and went to the bathroom. He said she had the appearance of being dead.

"I asked Mr. Sanger if he wanted to go for a drive so he could talk because I wanted to get some fresh air," said witness.

Sanger agreed to the ride and after traveling down Government Street Tilley stopped the car on Dallas Road.

"He asked me about helping him to dispose of the body and I said 'No,'" said Tilley.

REFUSED SECOND TIME

Witnesses said Sanger suggested that they could drive out to Sidney and dispose of the body "and again I refused and drove back to the apartment."

There, witness said the accused asked help to dress the body, which had some clothing on it.

"I said I would have nothing to do with it and suggested that it would be better for him to telephone the police than have anyone else do it and Sanger said he would," said witness.

He then went home, he recalled. Mr. Dawe only asked one question of accused when cross-examination was offered.

Mr. Proudfoot, handling his first major case in the role of prosecutor, said the Crown would endeavor to prove that Gwen was in good health up until 4 on the afternoon of Sept. 9 and that death was due to attempted abortion.

Dr. Ross McNeilly, pathologist at Jubilee Hospital, said death could have been caused by attempted abortion.

William Robert Casswell, Edgewater Auto Court, husband of the deceased, said he had been separated from his wife for two and one-half months but that they were to be re-united on Sunday, Sept. 9.

He had seen his wife the night before at her mother's place at the auto court "and she appeared to be normal."

The husband told Mr. Dawe he never heard his wife talk about a possible abortion and had no knowledge of her using drugs of any kind.

Casswell came home from Korea four and one-half months ago, and said he had never accused his wife of infidelity.

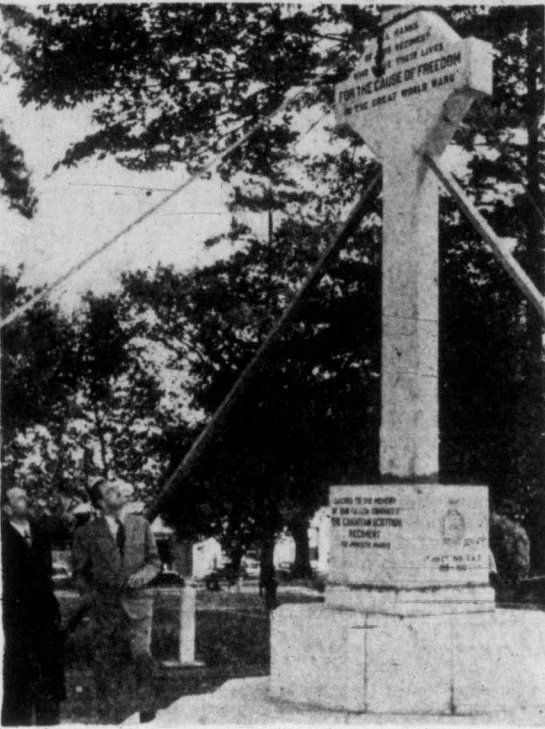

Mrs. Helen Harlow, mother of the "dead girl, said Gwen had stayed with her at the auto court during the night of Sept. 8 and left for work at the B.C. Telephone Exchange at 9:45 the next morning.

"She was in good spirits," said the mother.

Miss Lillian G. Allen, supervisor at the B.C. Telephone Co., said Mrs. Casswell appeared in perfect health when she saw her on the Sunday. Operator Miss Elizabeth Cox said "Gwen appeared to be very happy" and normal up to the time she left the building in the afternoon.

The hearing before Magistrate H. C. Hall was adjourned until tomorrow for continuation.

Alan MacKay, Colquitz, and William Bradley, 47 Maddock Avenue, were each fined $35 when they pleaded guilty to charges of careless driving.

New Memorial Erected In Park

An impressive grey granite memorial, weighing 13 tons, was raised today in the centre plot of Pioneer Square. The plot is sacred to the memory of men of the Canadian Scottish who died in the First and Second World Wars. Shown inspecting the monument is Col. W. J. Mosedale, present commanding officer of the regiment. The memorial will be formally unveiled and dedicated next Sunday. (Times photo.)

Record $1,928,980 Paid B.C. Family Allowances

A record $1,928,980 was paid out in family allowances to British Columbians in September, it was learned today from W. R. Bone, regional director of Family Allowances here.

Payments were made on behalf of 322,649 children in 163,785 families.

Mr. Bone said figures indicated that during the current month 635 families in receipt of allowances entered the province while 520 left for other parts of Canada. The majority of people who entered B.C. came from the prairie provinces, with Alberta leading the list, he said.

Colwood Names Defense Head

Sam Vallis was chosen as district civil defense leader for Colwood at an organizational meeting Monday night at the community hall.

Leonard G. Hatcher, Greater Victoria civil defense co-ordinator, was the speaker.

Florence Nightingale In Her Later Years

Prized possession of Mrs. Harry Elwell, Oakmount Road, is this authentic picture of Florence Nightingale, left, ministering to the wounded in a London hospital, after the Crimean war. Doctor in the background is Sir William Jervis, brother of the Earl of St. Vincent, who was married to Mrs. Elwell's great-grand-aunt.

Sarah Anne Paget. The picture was given to Mrs. Elwell by her mother the day she graduated from Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton. In "The Lady With A Lamp," to be seen in a premiere tomorrow night at Royal Theatre, the part of Florence Nightingale will be played by Anna Neagle, English cinema star.

Wed Recently In Church At Sidney

Early autumn flowers were arranged in St. Paul's United Church, Sidney, recently to create an attractive setting for the ceremony uniting in marriage Phyllis Jean John and Harold Roy Gillespie.

Rev. E. S. Fleming heard the nuptial vows of the daughter of Mrs. G. D. John, Sidney, and late Mr. John, and the son of Mrs. S. Leak.

H. Vine played wedding music. The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Clifford Bull, wore a smart dress with brown accessories and a corsage of cream and pink rosebuds.

Her sister, Mrs. Kathleen Bath, as matron of honor wore a beige dress with green accessories and gladioli and rosebud corsage.

Jack Sutherland was best man and ushers were David Donaldson and Kenneth John.

Sherman Leak proposed the toast to the bride at the reception in the bride's home. A four-tier wedding cake centred the bridal table.

Mrs. Gillespie donned a Glen plaid coat over her wedding ensemble when she left for Salt Spring Island where her husband is employed with the Department of Transport.

A.F.L. To Take Keen Part In 1952 U.S. Election

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The American Federation of Labor was committed today to an intensive campaign in the 1952 election campaign.

The A.F.L. meeting in its 70th annual convention, Monday named 19 U.S. senators as its initial targets for defeat. Later, the organization promised it would put the finger on congressmen, governors and state legislators who oppose organized labor's cause.

There was some indication that the 8,000,000-member federation might depart in 1952 from its traditional policy of not endorsing presidential candidates. Retiring director Joseph D. Keenan of the A.F.L.'s political arm said that only after the two major parties choose their candidates next June should the A.F.L. "get into the campaign."

From all indications at the 10-day convention, if the A.F.L. endorses any presidential candidate in 1952 it will be President Harry

S. Truman, if he decides to run for re-election.

The A.F.L.'s political campaign in '52—which will be waged through labor's league for political education—will be financed by a "voluntary" contribution of $1 per member. In addition, the union plans to assess its members an additional 1 per cent per month in per capita tax which would put another $1,000,000 in the treasury for "political education."

Battered Tone Tells District Attorney His Love Rival Tossed First Blow

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Light-heavyweight actor Tom Neal was expected to emerge from seclusion today to give authorities his side of his bloody brawl with middleweight screen star Franchot Tone over the affections of shapely Barbara Payton.

The battered Tone, his puffed eyes hidden behind dark glasses, conferred with District Attorney E. Ernest Roll and asked for a felony complaint against Neal, whose superior ring ability sent Tone to the hospital Sept. 13.

Roll was scheduled to confer first with Mr. and Mrs. Kent Modglin, who were guests at Miss Payton's home when the one-sided fight occurred on her front lawn, and then talk with Neal later in the day.

Tone, who has been resting behind closed doors at California Lutheran Hospital since doctors repaired his smashed face, climbed out of his bed for a three-hour conference with Roll and police.

When he had told his side of the story, the voluptuous Miss Payton, currently Tone's fiancée, was closeted with the district attorney. She told him she did not know who tossed the first punch.

Roll said the blonde actress told him she heard "a noise."

"She saw Tone flying through the air, and Neal right after him," the district attorney said. Miss Payton admitted to Roll that someone's flying fist knocked her cold when she attempted to halt the fracas.

DATED NEAL

She also told Roll that she dated Neal while Tone lay in jured in the hospital, but she insisted they met "only in the beach area" to discuss "all the publicity attendant on this affair."

Miss Payton, who tearfully declared her love for Tone and her determination to marry him as soon as his features are repaired, has been reported seen "cuddling" with Neal at a swank resort near Malibu Beach.

Following his conference with Roll, Tone gave police his version of the fight and accused Neal, Miss Payton's former fiancée, of striking the first blow.

REFUSED TO LEAVE

Tone said he and Miss Payton and a group of friends came to her apartment and found Neal waiting for them. Miss Payton asked Neal to leave, but he refused, Tone said.

"I said, Tom, let's go outside and talk things over," Tone said. "We both went out on the lawn and talked quietly for about 30 minutes. Toward the end of our discussion, Miss Payton came out, put her arms around me and said: 'Can't we do something to end this situation?'"

It was at that point, Tone said, that Neal's blood began to boil and he aimed the first punch at him.

NEW HOUSING UNITS DECLINE

OTTAWA (CP)—The Bureau of Statistics Monday reported that both starts and completions of new housing units were down sharply in July compared with July last year. Starts fell 40 per cent and completions 28 per cent.

GENERAL MORTGAGE BONDS, 5 1/4% SERIES "A"

To be dated September 1, 1951

To mature September 1, 1971

Principal and semi-annual interest (March 1 and September 1) and redemption premium, if any, payable in lawful money of Canada at any branch in Canada of the Company's bankers. Coupon Bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500 registrable as to principal only. Holders of Bonds in interim form may, without expense to such holders, exchange such Bonds for definitive Bonds in any authorized denomination in either bearer form or registered as to principal, at the option of such holders.

The General Mortgage Bonds, Series "A", will be redeemable for Sinking Fund purposes on not less than 30 days' prior notice at 101 1/2% of the principal amount thereof if redeemed on or before September 1, 1955; thereafter at 101% of the principal amount thereof if redeemed on or before September 1, 1959; thereafter at 100 1/2% of the principal amount thereof if redeemed on or before September 1, 1963; thereafter at 100% of the principal amount thereof if redeemed on or before September 1, 1967, and thereafter at the principal amount thereof if redeemed prior to maturity; together in each case with accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption; and in whole at any time or in part from time to time at the option of the Company on not less than 30 days' prior notice at 103% of the principal amount thereof if redeemed on or before September 1, 1955; thereafter at 102% of the principal amount thereof if redeemed on or before September 1, 1959; thereafter at 101% of the principal amount thereof if redeemed on or before September 1, 1963; thereafter at 100 1/2% of the principal amount thereof if redeemed on or before September 1, 1967, and thereafter at the principal amount thereof if redeemed prior to maturity; together in each case with accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption.

There will be created in respect of the General Mortgage Bonds, Series "A", a Sinking Fund by payment to the Trustee on or before September 1 in each of the years 1955 to 1970, both inclusive, of an amount sufficient to retire in each of such years $700,000 principal amount of the General Mortgage Bonds, Series "A". Any such Sinking Fund liability may be satisfied by delivery to the Trustee of General Mortgage Bonds, Series "A", to be taken at par. Bonds redeemed by call for purposes other than Sinking Fund shall, at the option of the Company, be credited at par on account of subsequent Sinking Fund liability.

Trustee: Montreal Trust Company

In the opinion of Counsel, companies registered under The Canadian and British Insurance Companies Act, 1932 (Canada), as amended, may, without availing themselves for that purpose of the provisions of sub-section 4 of section 60 of said Act, invest their funds, or any portion thereof, in these Bonds.

We offer, as principals, these General Mortgage Bonds, subject to prior sale, if, as and when the Bonds have been issued and received by us, and subject to the approval of all legal matters on behalf of the Company by Messrs. Lindsay, Emery, Ford, Massie & Jamieson, Edmonton, Alberta, and on our behalf by Messrs. McMichael, Common, Howard, Ker & Cate, Montreal, Que., who will rely on the opinion of said Counsel for the Company in respect of the validity of the incorporation and organization of the Company and the titles to its properties and also in respect of all matters of local law in Alberta.

PRICE: 99 and accrued interest to yield 5.33%

It is expected that General Mortgage Bonds in interim form will be available for delivery on or about October 10, 1951.

Units Of New Atlantic Oil Group Advance

VANCOUVER—Components of the new Canadian Atlantic Oil Company were strong today. Atlantic rose 10 cents to 5.00; Princess added 7 cents to 1.52 and Allied 2 cents to 1.02. Other oils declined lower. Mount slipping 5 cents to 1.95, while York and Del Rio were off pennies.

Mines were generally lower where changed, although Western Uranium added 10 cents at 5.00. Kootenay Belle and Quatino each dropped 3 cents and American Standard at .33 was off 2 cents.

Canadian Western Lumber rallied among industrials gaining 1/2 at 12.00. McMillan B also put up 1/2 at 29 1/2 for another new high.

Smelters New High

MONTREAL (CP)—Securities eased off from a mixed tone today. Trading was active.

Major industrial losers were Molson's "A" down 2 1/2 points to 24. Asbestos 1 1/2 to 71 1/2. Consumers Glass one to 25. Algoma Steel one to 57, and Placer Development one to 46.

Gainers were Consolidated Smelters up two points to a new high of 180. Canadian Dredge two to 47. Dominion Bridge one to 64, and Steelco 1 1/4 to 36 1/4.

United Asbestos again featured mines when it showed a net gain of 25 cents under a turnover of 83,000 shares after rising 35 cents to a new high of $4.80.

Support At Close

TORONTO (CP)—Mild support toward the close regained most earlier price losses.

Western oils continued weak after a sharp early afternoon decline. Devon-Leduc, Jupiter, Long Island Petroleum, Mid-Continent, New Pacalta, Redwater-Piccadilly, Western Homestead and New British Dominions showed large turnovers.

Base metals were mixed and trendless. Consolidated Smelters, International Nickel, Pease Oreille and United Asbestos tended higher. Coast Copper, Golden Manitou, Noranda, Quebec Manitou, Quemet and United Keno Hill showed weakness.

Senior golds remained lower. Juniors posted a wide list of penny losses.

Rails Lead Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The market advanced fractions to around a point today as rail stocks led an upward movement.

The upturn came after the market got off to a hesitant start. Nickel Plate was up as much as three points at one time and Union Pacific gained up to 1 1/4.

Among issues up as much as two points at times were American Smelting, Zenith Radio, Reynolds Metals and Aluminum Ltd.

Canadian issues were mostly lower. Dome Mines and Canadian Pacific, both up 1/4, were the only gainers. International Nickel, Hiram Walker and Distillers Seagrams all slipped 1/4, and McIntyre lost 1/4.

On the curb, Lake Shore and Royalite Oil each lost 1/4 and Giant Yellowknife was down 1/4.

GOOD FOR B.C. MINES U.S. May Pay More For Lead And Zinc

By HARRY YOUNG, Times Business Editor

A hint dropped by an official of the U.S. Office of Price Stabilization that the price ceiling for imported lead and zinc may be raised, would, if it materializes be a big matter for the many base metal enterprises in British Columbia.

The U.S. official says that such a course may be found necessary in order to boost lead and zinc imports.

Under the present arrangement the ceiling price paid for lead in the United States is 17 1/2 cents per pound. This compares with 23 cents being paid by the United Kingdom, and it means that the U.S. is getting only what is left over after British demands are satisfied.

The suggestion is made that the U.S. ceiling should be raised or that a dual-price system should be adopted which would allow manufacturers to pay a higher price for lead and zinc which they are forced to import, leaving the domestic price ceiling unchanged at 17 cents.

The U.S. is already taking steps to increase the imports of zinc. A bill is awaiting approval of the senate Thursday which will suspend the import duty on zinc.

Any higher prices paid by the U.S. for lead and zinc will assist those British Columbia companies which are operating on comparatively low-grade ore, and have a low margin of profit.

The future of the aluminum industry in the northwest of the U.S. is being discussed today by defense mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, and three big groups who manufacture about half of the U.S. aluminum in this district.

They are Alcoa, Henry Kaiser and Reynolds Metal Corporation.

Wilson suggests that the aluminum plants should be relocated in other parts of the U.S. because this summer's drought has brought a shortage of water for power in the northwest.

The three corporations have not made public their answers to Wilson's suggestion, but it is credibly believed that they will let him know that uprooting plants in the Pacific northwest is not feasible as a short-term solution and unsound in the long run.

The difficulties facing the U.S. in securing sufficient cheap power for the manufacture of aluminum indicates the wisdom of the Alcan in going ahead with its B.C. project—even in the absence of any market guarantees from south of the border.

The indications are that there will be a ready sale for everything that comes out of Kitimat.

Freight Surcharge Made On Apples

The speedy shipment of fruit from the Okanagan Valley to Victoria is being stopped because the railways impose 50 cents a hundredweight surcharge on the freight of apples from Vancouver to Victoria, if those apples have been moved from the Okanagan to Vancouver by truck.

Wizard Lake Well Rivals Biggest

EDMONTON (CP)—Texaco Exploration Co. and McColl-Fontenac Oil Co. Ltd. have reported the drilling of a well in the Wizard Lake area rivaling in size Imperial Oil's Golden Spike producers, the biggest in Canada.

Industry reports have called the well—Wizard Lake No. B-2—the year's outstanding oil discovery. It is located five miles southwest of the Calmar sector of the Edmonton oilfields.

BEDTIME STORY

by Thornton W. Burgess

Even those in window snooped
Are at times completely fooled.
—Ood Mr. Toad.

Usually, Old Mr. Toad was at home and asleep at this hour. You know he is out all night, so often sleeps all day. This morning he had stayed out a little later than usual. He was just about to crawl out of sight when he saw one of the few enemies a Toad has, one that he fears with a great fear. It was Bluffer the Hog-nosed Snake. He hoped that Bluffer had not seen him. He was in such a hurry to get out of sight that he actually scrambled under a board. The young Toad was already there.

"You seem to be in a hurry," said young Toad.

"Sh-h-h-h-h," whispered Old Mr. Toad. He sounded frightened. The truth is, he was frightened. He was a scared Toad if ever there was one. Seeing how scared he was, Young Toad became scared, too.

"What is it?" he whispered.

"A Snake," Old Mr. Toad whispered back.

"Is he coming this way?" frightened Young Toad wanted to know.

"I don't want to find out," re-

disappeared and the sand fell in, covering them completely. They kept digging down and backing in until they felt sure there was enough earth over them to make them quite safe. Then they stopped digging. They were there they were not there. At least Bluffer would think they were not there.

Schuman Says German Treaty 'Impossible'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France said Monday a German peace treaty at this time is "impossible."

"The present situation of Germany and especially the fact that this country is divided and partly occupied by Soviet forces make impossible, for the time being, the conclusion of a German peace treaty," he said in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News and World Report, a weekly news magazine.

Just then they heard Flip the Terrier barking, and Old Mr. Toad guessed right away that Flip had found Bluffer. "Listen," said he. "That Dog has found him and may drive him away."

"I hope so," replied Young Toad in a quavering voice. Then he added, "Supposing he should drive him under here?"

Old Mr. Toad looked startled. Yes, sir, those beautiful golden eyes of his had a startled look. "I hadn't thought of that," said he. "If he comes we won't be here."

"Where will we be?" asked young Toad.

"Here," replied Old Mr. Toad. "But you just said we won't be here," retorted Young Toad.

"We won't, but we will," replied Old Mr. Toad, and there was a twinkle in his golden eyes.

"How can we be here, and not here?" asked Young Toad wonderingly.

"That's easy," replied Old Mr. Toad. "We'll be here, but that Snake won't see us and will think we're not here. Now let's dig."

Old Mr. Toad began to work his hind feet. He was digging. At once Young Toad began to do the same thing. They didn't dig with their hands, but only with their hind feet. They were digging the sand away underneath themselves. They were backing down as they dug. It was just as if somebody or something underneath them was pulling them down. In a surprisingly short time only the tops of their agreed in Washington which came into a contractual piece, to be arranged "as rapidly as possible." He returned to Paris Saturday after attending the Atlantic treaty conference in Ottawa.

United States officials have been settling for a German peace settlement before the end of the winter.

Schuman in his interview did not amplify his stand on a peace treaty.

As to whether Germany should be rearmcd as part of the European defense set-up, he said:

"Germany must not be rearmcd, but Europe must be rearmcd with German contingents; the German contingents being integrated in a European army."

Frenchman Trips Across Thames On Tight Rope

LONDON (AP) — M. Charles Elleano, a Frenchman who likes to cross rivers unconventionally, walked over the Thames Saturday on a tight wire. A million people watched near Charing Cross in the heart of London. The distance, 40 feet above the waters, was 1,050 feet. It was a Festival of Britain stunt.

Labor Picture Bright, Auto Centres Excepted

OTTAWA (CP)—The automobile-building centre at Windsor, Ont., is still a labor sore spot but the general employment picture across the country is bright, the labor department said Monday.

In its latest employment survey covering conditions at Aug. 30, the department estimated that of Canada's expanding labor force, only 127,100 were jobless, a drop of 24,500 from 151,600 on Aug. 31, 1950.

In Windsor, however, 1,475 were added to those seeking employment, bringing the total with-out jobs on Aug. 30 to 4,705. Another layoff by the Ford Motor Company during Labor Day weekend boosted Windsor's total unemployed by 1,800 to 6,505.

Other developments:

1. The prairies are gradually getting together the huge labor force required to harvest the record prairie wheat crop.

2. The British Columbia logging industry is still beleaguered by lack of activity, mainly because of a 10-week crippling drought. The department felt it would be some time before sawmills start working at full scale again.

Under federal provincial arrangements, 100,000 men from Ontario and 384 from Quebec had been moved westward to the prairies by Sept. 14 to help bring in the record harvest of 579,000,000 bushels.

Thief Balked In Dummy Watch haul

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A thief in Miami Beach has $10,000 worth of watches which wouldn't give him the time of day.

Louis Fried, a watch salesman from New York, told police that 272 dummy timepieces were stolen from his car Saturday night while it was parked in front of his apartment.

The watches, intended for display purposes, had dials and hands but no movements.

East German Explosion In Mine Fatal To 22

FRANKFURT, Germany (Reuters)—An East German said in a letter received here today that at least 22 miners were killed recently in an explosion in the largest potash mine in East Germany.

The explosion, he said, destroyed the mine at Wernigerode in the Harz Mountains.

'VERY BUSY—HAVE TO GO TO A PARTY!'

Mickey Rooney Loses His 3rd Wife

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Diminutive Actor Mickey Rooney had a man-size temper and spent most of his married life away from home, his third wife, Actress Martha Vickers, testified in obtaining a divorce.

"He had a very bad temper. He seemed to look for reasons all the time just to pick a fight—simply for an excuse to leave the house," the 25-year-old actress told Superior Judge Clarence L. Kincaid yesterday.

The pint-size actor was not in court to hear Miss Vickers describe his tantrums during the time she was expecting their child, Ted Michael, 17 months.

Rooney

"Many times he would get in an argument and say he wanted a divorce or wanted me to leave him and would storm out of the house," she said, "and I wouldn't see him for three or four days."

Shortly before the baby was born, Miss Vickers testified, Rooney disappeared, and "I don't think I saw Mickey at all."

"He telephoned the day before the baby was born, and I told him the doctors said it would be soon, and he said he was very busy and had to go to a party," she said.

Rooney, 30, married the actress June 3, 1949, and their stormy marital life was marked by several separations and reconciliations before Miss Vickers filed suit for divorce last June.

The court approved a property agreement giving Miss Vickers $2,000 a month alimony for the remainder of this year, scaling down to $300 a month by 1959.

The little actor previously was married to actress Ava Gardner, and Alabama beauty contest winner Betty Jane Rose.

Sad Reminder For Princess

There was no escape from the medical atmosphere for Princess Elizabeth when she received a nursing guard of honor at the London film premiere Saturday of the motion picture "Lady With The Lamp," which Victorians will see in its Canadian premiere at the Royal Theatre tomorrow. The Countess of Mountbatten of Burma accompanied the Princess to the show Saturday, which was the eve of the operation on her royal father.

Gregory Peck — A Man Easy To Get Along With — Thomas

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You can't help liking Gregory Peck. I kept thinking that as I watched him on the set of "World In His Arms." It was a hot September day and the lunch hour wasn't called until 2 o'clock. Instead of racing to the coolness of his dressing room, Peck agreed to pose in the broiling sun for publicity shots with a child actress.

After many minutes of posing, Peck told the little girl: "I'm glad to have met you; I hope we can work together in a picture very soon."

Later, a studio bigwig commented: "That guy Peck is certainly easy to get along with; unlike most actors, he seems to have no problems."

Well off
"Maybe that's because he's one of the few actors who realizes how well off he is," someone added.

That seems to be true. Of all the actors who have risen in the past decade, Peck appears to have the best future. He is no longer tied to any studio and can draw as much money as the traffic will bear. The requests for his services are many.

Now that he is a free agent, how does he go about picking his roles?

"No particular system," he replied, "except that I try to make every third script an action picture. If there is enough action in the picture, that is insurance."

that it will do well at the box-office. There is just enough back in me to want to be in successful pictures.

"I used to be the other way around. I thought I wanted to make pictures like 'The Ox-Bow Incident.' Pictures that would be embraced by thinking people even if they didn't make money at the box-office."

"But in recent years, I've changed my ideas. I began to look at things from the producer's viewpoint and I realized how important it was to have commercial success."

THE ODD FLOP
Peck exploded the notion that all his pictures have made money. "The Macomber Affair" lost money," he said, "and 'The Parading Case' dropped a bundle. Also 'The Great Sinner.'"

But I looked up some of his other pictures. I found that on Variety's list of film receipts for the United States and Canada alone, "Duel in the Sun" is listed as earning $10,000,000; "The Yearling" $5,250,000; "Spellbound" $4,975,000; "Valley of Decision" $4,500,000.

In addition, Peck's current picture "David and Bathsheba" is expected to earn around $5,000,000 in the U.S. alone. And his "Captain Horatio Hornblower" is another one of the year's big money-makers.

Old-Line Politics' Boss In Comeback

BOSTON (AP)—James Michael Curley, one of the last of the old-line political bosses, is attempting a comeback.

Vigorous despite his 77 years, the white-haired campaigner is running for a job he has won four times before—Mayor of Boston.

The "Old Man"—as he is known among supporters—admittedly faces an uphill fight this time.

With the primary Tuesday, he has stiff opposition from two men who grew up in the Curley political machine.

One is John B. Hynes, the "career man" city clerk who unseated Curley as mayor two years ago in his first bid for elective office.

The other is Joseph P. Timilty, who once served as Curley's police commissioner and managed his unsuccessful campaign for re-election as mayor in 1949 against Hynes.

Boston's mayor elections are non-partisan. All three—Hynes, Curley and Timilty—are Democrats. But there's a move among some Republicans to throw their votes to Hynes in the primary.

U.S. Gas Import Foes Cite Case

BILLINGS, Mont. (CP)—A witness for coal operators and workers' groups opposing importation of Alberta natural gas said Monday that if an import license is denied there will be no interruption for five years in the production of defense minerals.

William T. Mandell, a Houston, Tex., geologist, made the statement during questioning by Lyle Erickson of Helena, Mont., representing the Montana Coal Operators' Association and the United Mine Workers of America, Montana-North Dakota District.

He testified for the coal industry, which began its direct case as the hearing before examiner Marvin Farrington of the federal power commission entered its third week. Alberta has approved export of a limited amount of natural gas to Montana for defense purposes.

Mandell took the stand after R. H. Glover of Butte, counsel for the Montana Power Co., objected to the testimony of coal witnesses. The latter contended that the importation of gas from Alberta would not displace coal.

Opponents argued that gas has already displaced coal in the state, particularly at the Ideal Cement Company's Trident plant.

Questioned by Erickson, J. E. Corlette, company vice-president, admitted that gas would not have been hooked to the Trident plant except for the possibility of obtaining Alberta supplies.

Mandell, referring to utility exhibits and testimony given since the hearings began here Sept. 10, said Anaconda Copper Mining Company plans would suffer no impairment of production in the next five years if Alberta gas were not available.

MANAGER of the main branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia here for the past five years, James A. Baxter will leave for Saskatoon Oct. 5 when he will take charge of the main branch in the prairie city. He will be succeeded by W. R. Monteith, who comes here from Quebec City.

PLANS COMPLETED

Nanaimo Children Will Buy Gifts For Royalty

NANAIMO—Plans have been completed for 4,500 Vancouver Island children to see Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip if they visit Nanaimo as scheduled.

The children will pack the Civic Arena, and will start putting aside pennies to buy gifts for Prince Charles and Princess Anne, children of the Royal couple.

The city's plans for the Royal visit call for a tour along Wallace Street to the City Hall to meet city council members and their wives; a call at the arena at 10 a.m., then a tour through the city to the C.P.R. terminal where the Royal visitors will board H.M.C.S. Crusader for their trip to Vancouver.

Navy Fills Key Esquimalt Post

Captain L. L. Atwood, V.R.D., R.C.N., formerly Director of Naval Intelligence at Naval Headquarters, took over the duties of the Chief of Staff to the Flag Officer Pacific Coast, today at Esquimalt.

He relieved Commander R. P. Welland, D.S.C., R.C.N., former commanding officer of the destroyer, H.M.C.S. Athabaskan, who will take up the appointment of Officer-in-Charge, Junior Officers' Technical and Leadership Course at Halifax, N.S.

Commander R. W. Murdoch, R.C.N., who has commanded the frigate, H.M.C.S. Beacon Hill, in the Pacific Training Force for nearly two years, has been appointed to the Training Establishment, H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, as Officer-in-Charge of the Communications School. Lieutenant Commander (G) J. W. McDowall, R.C.N., formerly Officer-in-Charge of the Gunnery Training Centre at H.M.C.S. Naden, has been named to command the frigate.

WORTHLESS COIN

The phrase "don't care a rap" originated when a counterfeit coin known as a "rap" was current in Ireland in the 18th century.

ARE "NERVES" A SIGN YOU'RE GROWING OLD?

Often as a woman approaches middle life, her nerves get bad, and she accepts this as a sign of age. But why let yourself become edgy, run-down—or so nervous you cry without cause—at any time in life? For nearly fifty years wise women have been meeting this situation happily—by getting plenty of rest, fresh air, wholesome food and by taking Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to build them up. For the Vitamin B₁, iron and other needed minerals in this time-tested tonic help build up your vitality and aid in toning up the entire system—so you can face the future with confidence. Give Dr. Chase's Nerve Food a chance to help banish nervous fears and doubts. It helps you rest better, and feel better. The name "Dr. Chase" is your assurance. 10
